More Than 400 Delegates At USWV Convention; Ask Return Meeting Here, '45

Officially welcomed to Gettysburg at a joint session this morning in the chapel of St. James Lutheran church, the Pennsylvania Department of the United Spanish War Veterans and its Auxiliary opened the first business sessions of their fortieth annual convention this afternoon.

With registrations surpassing all preliminary estimates and making this convention "the biggest war-time convention the Department ever has held," delegates approached the 500-mark at noon today with more than 400 veterans and Auxiliary members registered.

Gettysburg Bids For 1945 Meeting

Even before the convention formally opened today, a movement was underway among the veterans to bring the 1945 convention to Gettysburg and that course of action was urged upon the convention this morning by Burgess Fred G. Pfeiffer in his official "welcome" address.

Indications today were that several other cities may make bids for the 1945 conclave but there is strong sentiment for coming "Back to Gettysburg in '45."

First delegates arrived Friday and about 60 of them motored to the Scotland school Saturday afternoon to attend the annual graduation exercises and distribute gifts to the 28 members of the graduating class. On Sunday morning the convention guests attended the church of their choice in Gettysburg.

The official convention parade was conducted here Sunday afternoon with Don Monahan, Harrisburg, past department commander, serving as chief marshal. Department officers and visiting national officials marched at the head of the column of delegates and guests who tramped the main streets of the town to martial music provided by the 28-piece USWV Pipe and Drum corps from Philadelphia.

Minutemen March

The unit came to Gettysburg by bus at 4:30 o'clock Sunday morning, and returned home in the late afternoon. Many of the members and a Pittsburgh drum and bugle corps were unable to come to Gettysburg because of the press of duties in war plants.

The Adams county company of the Pennsylvania Minutemen marched in the column with the veterans and Auxiliary members.

The first public joint memorial service ever held by the veterans and their ladies in the 40 years of annual sessions was conducted Sunday evening at 8 o'clock in the St. James chapel.

Honoring the 310 Pennsylvania department veterans and 57 Auxiliary members who died since the 1943 convention, the two department chairmen placed floral wreaths on the plaform in memory of their departed comrades and sisters.

Shrouters Presides

Nearly 400 persons attended the service and sang the "Star Spangled Banner," saluted the colors, gave the Americanism pledge and heard the invocation by Department Chaplain Martin M. Knuth of Scranton.

John U. Schreyer, Pennsylvania secretary of highways and a past department commander of the USWV, who is now chairman of the department legislative committee, presided over the service. Scripture was read by the pastor of the church, the Rev. Ralph R. Gresh, Dr. Charles I. Shaffer, USWV department commander, and Department President Ella R. Hawk, Pittsburgh, spoke briefly.

Jeanne MacDonald, Pittsburgh, national USWV Auxiliary soloist and department secretary, sang "One Sincerely Solemn Thought" and eight boys of the graduating class of Scotland school—three of whom already have been sworn into military service—sang "Eternal Father" and "Soldier Rest."

Memorial Address

The placing of the wreaths by Chaplain Knuth and Florence Cranage, department auxiliary chaplain, followed.

The memorial address was delivered by the Rev. David Luther Shaffer, Lutheran pastor from Martinsburg, Pa., and a younger brother of Commander Shaffer. Paying tribute to the veterans of the War of 1898 and citing the record of the United States in international affairs, the Rev. Mr. Shaffer declared: "After this war we shall not demand the spoils of victory but shall ask for guarantees of an opportunity to achieve a permanent peace." The Rev. Mr. Gresh pronounced the benediction. The playing of taps by the bugler closed the service.

At the informal joint session this morning the convention guests were welcomed to this community by Burgess Pfeiffer and Dr. J. Walter Coleman, national park superintendent. The burgoes welcomed the veterans and their ladies as "old friends of Gettysburg" recalling their conventions here in 1942 and (Please Turn to Page 2)

German war prisoners from Camp George G. Meade, Maryland, under guard of U. S. Army troops led by Capt. L. C. Thomas, today were engaged in work on the prison camp to be established on the Gettysburg battlefield just outside the borough limits along the Emmitsburg road.

The 50 war prisoners engaged in the work are placing poles for the stockade to surround the camp and are clearing space for concrete floors to be poured for kitchens, mess halls and the like. The men arrived Sunday morning and immediately began their work in the field where U. S. Army troops were stationed in 1932. Reds Launch New Drive To Oust Finland

By HENRY C. CASSIDY
Moscow, June 12 (AP)—Launching a major offensive designed to knock Finland out of the war and isolate approximately 100,000 Nazi troops in the northern part of that country, the Red Army rolled forward along the Karelian isthmus above Leningrad today after cracking Finnish defenses on a 25-mile front.

A communique last night announcing the new drive said Soviet troops already had advanced 12 to 25 miles, and indicated they were moving forward fast everywhere.

This offensive evidently was coordinated closely with Allied operations in France, and represented a step in the grand Allied strategy worked out at the Teheran conferences.

Take 82 Towns

Troops under Col. Gen. Leonid Govorov, who lifted the siege of Leningrad, launched the push Friday, just one month after the fall of Sevastopol.

The Soviet communique declared Russian forces had captured 82 towns and villages, including the rail junction of Terijoki, 27 miles airline northwest of Leningrad and 160 miles east of the Finnish capital of Helsinki.

Also captured, the bulletin said, was Yappiya, described as "an important stronghold" seven miles northeast of Terijoki.

Terijoki, situated on the Leningrad-Finnish railway, is about six miles west of the 1938 Russian-Finnish border, and 70 miles east of the frontier established by the peace treaty which ended the war between the two countries in the winter of 1939-40.

5TH WAR LOAN DRIVE STARTS

Washington, June 12 (AP)—The Treasury set out today "Civilian D-Day"—to raise $16,000,000,000 in the Fifth War Loan drive.

The major effort was directed to raising $6,000,000,000 of the total from individuals' purchases of war bonds—nearly $1,000,000,000 more than individuals invested in the Fourth War Loan.

Only such purchases will be reported until June 26, after which the campaign will be aimed at raising $10,000,000,000 from other non-banking investors. Commercial banks will be permitted to subscribe to limited amounts of certain kinds of bonds, but these purchases will not be credited to the drive.

Tonight President Roosevelt, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, governors of five gulf southwest states and a host of stage, screen and radio performers will join in an hour-long radio program to be broadcast over the four major networks starting at 10 p. m.

The major portion of the program will originate in Texas, on the border of Texas and Arkansas, where a day of activities is scheduled.

MRS. BISHOP DIES SUNDAY

Mrs. Emma B. Bishop, 71, widow of Gettys Bishop, died Sunday evening at 9 o'clock at the home of her son, Guy Bishop, Cumberland township, from a complication of diabetes. She had been in ill health since February and was bedfast three weeks.

The deceased resided in Adams county her entire life. She was a daughter of the late George and Anna (Somer) Lawver. Mrs. Bishop was a member of Fidd's Lutheran church. Her husband died in January, 1940.

Surviving are a son, Guy, at whose home she resided, and one brother, Harry F. Lawver, Ottumwa.

Funeral services from the Bender funeral home Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock conducted by the Rev. A. R. Longenecker. Interment in Fidd's cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday evening after 7 o'clock.

Fvt. William Seiders, Jr., has returned to Camp Pendleton, Virginia, after completing a 10-day emergency furlough with his family on York street.

Carentan Taken; Caen Encircled; Cutting Big Cape

By JAMES M. LONG

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, June 12 (AP)—American troops have captured Carentan, main stronghold guarding the narrowest neck of the Cherbourg peninsula, the German high command conceded today, and British forces have battered nine miles east of Caen, threatening encirclement of that eastern hinge of the Normandy battlefield.

Doughboy troops not only were cracking the Cherbourg peninsula line at the center, pounding halfway across the cape, but one spearhead had hammered within 14 miles southeast of the great funnel port itself. And Berlin said seaborne forces had poured ashore at St. Vaast La Hogue, 15 miles east of Cherbourg.

Big Fight For Caen Looms

The Germans said Carentan, whose floodgates control the main peninsular water defense system, was evacuated in order to continue a stand on ground less exposed to Allied naval guns.

As for Caen, German broadcasts said that a British drive had reached nearly to Troarn, nine miles due east of that bastion, and that Allied parachutists had landed south of Caen. British troops were driving down west of Caen threatening the other flank. Field Marshal Erwin Rommel has mounted his fiercest armored counter-attacks in this Caen sector, and Berlin said major British forces were concentrating for a full-fledged assault on the town.

In the center of the 50-mile-long front, American troops were advancing toward St. Lo, a prize communications hub 20 miles inland.

As the American frontal attack across the Merderet river on Cherbourg peninsula reached within 12 miles of the west coast roads—whose capture would seal off Cherbourg—Vichy radio said doughboys had pushed into Quineville on the east coast.

Germans Reel Under Hard Blows

This would put Lt.-Gen. Omar N. Bradley's flank within 14 miles of Cherbourg on a four-mile front between Quineville and Montebourg, where street fighting was reported.

The Germans, apparently reeling under the force of the first invasion week, said 300,000 to 400,000 Allied troops already had been poured into a mighty bridgehead flood and that these represented only a third of the amphibious assault forces poised in Britain to hammer home attacks against the continent.

"The bulk of the huge forces of the 21st Amphibious Army group is still standing by to pounce on some important harbor," the German radio declared.

Continuing a stream of reports of new Allied landings, Berlin's Transocean news agency said sea-borne forces had been put ashore at St. Vaast La Hogue near the top of the peninsula and due east of Cherbourg yesterday.

Force Germans From Two Towns

The Germans said the Allies had crossed the Orne estuary, ferrying over tanks and threatening Caen, which Marshal Erwin Rommel by his counterattacks had made a testing point.

The crossing of the estuary forced the Germans to evacuate two towns before the Allied onslaught was checked near Troarn, nine miles east of Caen, by German aircraft.

A breakthrough here would link up infantry with parachute troops which the Nazis said had landed in the Troarn area earlier.

Heightening the prospect of encirclement of Caen was the German report of other parachute troop landings south of the town.

To the west British troops also were flanking the town by a thrust through Tilly-sur-Seuilles where armored columns were engaged in fierce combat.

Still farther west, American forces were said by Allied headquarters to have smashed with gathering force beyond the flooded Merderet river at several points and into the Forest De Cerisy, a defense point for the communications hub of St. Lo.

Allies Encircling Town Of Caen

Earlier Allied accounts said the fighting swayed close to the flooded-guarded town and the Germans had told of heavy tank attacks and night penetrations of the place.

Official reports said only that British and Canadians were holding their own satisfactorily along the explosive Caen line, but field dispatches declared Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery had mounted a powerful encircling sweep, with the Allies driving ahead on both flanks around the town.

Headquarters Communiqué No. 13, issued at 11 a. m. (5 a. m. Eastern War time), reported that intense fighting against German armored columns raged without respite in the Tilly-sur-Seuilles area on the British sector of the front.

Field Marshal Karl Gerd Von Rundstedt was rushing reserves up from as far back as Paris to meet this mounting menace, but his new men and guns, and the roads over which they moved, were under bomb, cannon, rocket and machinegun fire of an Allied air armada which before noon had flown more sorties than all day yesterday.

Reds Launch New Drive To Oust Finland

By HENRY C. CASSIDY

Moscow, June 12 (AP)—Launching a major offensive designed to knock Finland out of the war and isolate approximately 100,000 Nazi troops in the northern part of that country, the Red Army rolled forward along the Karelian isthmus above Leningrad today after cracking Finnish defenses on a 25-mile front.

A communique last night announcing the new drive said Soviet troops already had advanced 12 to 25 miles, and indicated they were moving forward fast everywhere.

This offensive evidently was coordinated closely with Allied operations in France, and represented a step in the grand Allied strategy worked out at the Teheran conferences.

Take 82 Towns

Troops under Col. Gen. Leonid Govorov, who lifted the siege of Leningrad, launched the push Friday, just one month after the fall of Sevastopol.

The Soviet communique declared Russian forces had captured 82 towns and villages, including the rail junction of Terjoki, 27 miles airline northwest of Leningrad and 160 miles east of the Finnish capital of Helsinki.

Also captured, the bulletin said, was Yappilya, described as "an important stronghold" seven miles northeast of Terjoki.

Terjoki, situated on the Leningrad-Finnish railway, is about six miles west of the 1938 Russian-Finnish border, and 70 miles east of the frontier established by the peace treaty which ended the war between the two countries in the winter of 1939-40.

5TH WAR LOAN DRIVE STARTS

Washington, June 12 (AP)—The Treasury set out today—"Civilian D-Day"—to raise $16,000,000,000 in the Fifth War Loan drive.

The major effort was directed to raising $6,000,000,000 of the total from individuals' purchases of war bonds—nearly $1,000,000,000 more than individuals invested in the Fourth War Loan.

Only such purchases will be reported until June 26, after which the campaign will be aimed at raising $10,000,000,000 from other non-banking investors. Commercial banks will be permitted to subscribe to limited amounts of certain kinds of bonds, but these purchases will not be credited to the drive.

Tonight President Roosevelt, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, governors of five gulf southwest states and a host of stage, screen and radio performers will join in an hour-long radio program to be broadcast over the four major networks starting at 10 p. m.

The major portion of the program will originate in Texarkana, on the border of Texas and Arkansas, where a day of activities is scheduled.

Carentan Taken; Caen Encircled; Cutting Big Cape

By JAMES M. LONG

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, June 12 (AP)—American troops have captured Carentan, main stronghold guarding the narrowest neck of the Cherbourg peninsula, the German high command conceded today, and British forces have battered nine miles east of Caen, threatening encirclement of that eastern hinge of the Normandy battlefield.

Doughboy troops not only were cracking the Cherbourg peninsula line at the center, pounding halfway across the cape, but one spearhead had hammered within 14 miles southeast of the great funnel port itself. And Berlin said seaborne forces had poured ashore at St. Vaast La Hogue, 15 miles east of Cherbourg.

Big Fight For Caen Looms

The Germans said Carentan, whose floodgates control the main peninsular water defense system, was evacuated in order to continue a stand on ground less exposed to Allied naval guns.

As for Caen, German broadcasts said that a British drive had reached nearly to Troarn, nine miles due east of that bastion, and that Allied parachutists had landed south of Caen. British troops were driving down west of Caen threatening the other flank. Field Marshal Erwin Rommel has mounted his fiercest armored counter-attacks in this Caen sector, and Berlin said major British forces were concentrating for a full-fledged assault on the town.

In the center of the 50-mile-long front, American troops were advancing toward St. Lo, a prize communications hub 20 miles inland.

As the American frontal attack across the Merderet river on Cherbourg peninsula reached within 12 miles of the west coast roads—whose capture would seal off Cherbourg—Vichy radio said doughboys had pushed into Quineville on the east coast.

Germans Reel Under Hard Blows

This would put Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley's flank within 14 miles of Cherbourg on a four-mile front between Quineville and Montebourg, where street fighting was reported.

The Germans, apparently reeling under the force of the first invasion week, said 300,000 to 400,000 Allied troops already had been poured into a mighty bridgehead flood and that these represented only a third of the amphibious assault forces poised in Britain to hammer home attacks against the continent.

"The bulk of the huge forces of the 21st Amphibious Army group is still standing by to pounce on some important harbor," the German radio declared.

Continuing a stream of reports of new Allied landings, Berlin's Transocean news agency said sea-borne forces had been put ashore at St. Vaast La Hogue near the top of the peninsula and due east of Cherbourg yesterday.

Force Germans From Two Towns

The Germans said the Allies had crossed the Orne estuary, ferrying over tanks and threatening Caen, which Marshal Erwin Rommel by his counterattacks had made a testing point.

The crossing of the estuary forced the Germans to evacuate two towns before the Allied onslaught was checked near Troarn, nine miles east of Caen, by German aircraft.

A breakthrough here would link up infantry with parachute troops which the Nazis said had landed in the Troarn area earlier.

Heightening the prospect of encirclement of Caen was the German report of other parachute troop landings south of the town.

To the west British troops also were flanking the town by a thrust through Tilly-sur-Seuilles where armored columns were engaged in fierce combat.

Still farther west, American forces were said by Allied headquarters to have smashed with gathering force beyond the flooded Merderet river at several points and into the Forest De Cerisy, a defense point for the communications hub of St. Lo.

Allies Encircling Town Of Caen

Earlier Allied accounts said the fighting swayed close to the flooded-guarded town and the Germans had told of heavy tank attacks and night penetrations of the place.

Official reports said only that British and Canadians were holding their own satisfactorily along the explosive Caen line, but field dispatches declared Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery had mounted a powerful encircling sweep, with the Allies driving ahead on both flanks around the town.

Headquarters Communiqué No. 13, issued at 11 a. m. (5 a. m. Eastern War time), reported that intense fighting against German armored columns raged without respite in the Tilly-sur-Seuilles area on the British sector of the front.

Field Marshal Karl Gerd Von Rundstedt was rushing reserves up from as far back as Paris to meet this mounting menace, but his new men and guns, and the roads over which they moved, were under bomb, cannon, rocket and machinegun fire of an Allied air armada which before noon had flown more sorties than all day yesterday.

PEAK OF BATTLE FOR EUROPE IS YET TO COME

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The battle of Cherbourg peninsula continues to mount in fury as reinforcements grow on both sides, but we have the gratifying assurance from none less than General Sir Bernard Montgomery that "the Allied armies have secured a firm and solid lodgement on the main-land of France."

We must not assume from this that the Allies have passed the danger mark. The peak of the battle will come when Nazi Field Marshal Rommel throws in the main body of his armored strategic reserves for an all-out counter-attack. We should save our celebration until that assault has been dealt with, since it can be a nasty affair.

However, Rommel himself is in a mighty tight corner. His problem isn't that of dealing with the Cherbourg alone, but of guarding the entire coastline of western Europe and southern France. If he sends great strength against the peninsula, he lays himself open to Allied amphibious invasions at numerous other strategic points. He might handle one, but he can't deal with all of them satisfactorily at the same time.

To Attack in Force

Still, he has no choice but to defend the peninsula to the best of his ability. This great battle is one of the crucial engagements of the war, for while Rommel couldn't prevent the Allies from establishing a second front by defeating them at Cherbourg, yet he might delay our ultimate success greatly.

So we must expect the Nazis to attack in force in the immediate future and try to drive the Allies back into the sea. One of our most powerful weapons against this assault will be our vast superiority in the air. We shall depend heavily on that to deal with enemy concentrations of troops and tanks, and with movements on railways and highways leading to the peninsula.

Another tower of strength rests in the Allied warships lying off Cherbourg. You will not that today's communique says "enemy mobile batteries have been under heavy fire from Allied warships." The great naval guns not only have been ironing out batteries, but are working on enemy concentrations. Their fire is directed by warplanes—the eyes of land and sea gunners.

Immediate Aim

Despite the bad weather, the Allies have continued to land troops and supplies. The Germans today estimate the Allied forces at between 20 and 25 divisions—four or five being paratroop divisions. With divisions at normal strength that might mean some 300,000 men. We are lucky if we have that many.

The immediate Allied aim is to isolate the peninsula by slashing across the base, and to take the port of Cherbourg. This ambition involves the capture of the big and heavily defended railway and highway junctions of Caen, and Saint Lo. As a counter move, the Germans are attacking both Allied flanks on the fifty mile front growing out of the beachheads.

"Grand News"

The Allies are getting ahead with the job, for today's reports place a beachhead half way across the peninsula. Particularly heavy fighting was proceeding in the area of the three railway junctions, and the German controlled Paris radio said that Allied paratroops were attacking a Nazi force east of Cherbourg.

At Caen, where bitter fighting has been proceeding almost since the earliest landings, General Montgomery today launched an encircling attack on the town with Canadian and British troops. The capture of this place is of great importance, because it is the main direct gateway of approach for Rommel's reinforcements. Meanwhile American tanks were driving towards St. Lo from the northeast.

And don't overlook the grand news from Moscow. The Russians have launched an offensive which is sweeping into Finland—Hitler's last card. The great machine finally is cranking on both sides of Hitler.

DETAIN WRITER UPON RETURN

Philadelphia, June 12 (AP)—The U. S. Immigration and Naturalization service said today that Alice Leone Moats, journalist, is being detained at Miami for investigation because she entered enemy territory in Europe.

Miss Moats, author of "Blind Date With Mars" and a correspondent for Collier's Weekly, was taken to an Immigration Detention station on her arrival by Clipper from Lisbon last Thursday, the service said.

The writer said in Lisbon early this month that she had made a two-weeks visit in France and planned to "tell and write my story" in this country. Her passport was cancelled there. The Immigration service said it did not know how she was able to return.

Her detention was asked by the State department and investigations are being made by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and Army and Navy Intelligence officers, the Immigration service reported.

The State department has declined to discuss the case but issued a general statement saying that anyone who entered enemy-held territory and conversed with the enemy, probably would lose passport facilities.

PEAK OF BATTLE FOR EUROPE IS YET TO COME

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The battle of Cherbourg peninsula continues to mount in fury as reinforcements grow on both sides, but we have the gratifying assurance from none less than General Sir Bernard Montgomery that "the Allied armies have secured a firm and good lodgement on the mainland of France."

We mustn't assume from this that the Allies have passed the danger mark. The peak of the battle will come when Nazi Field Marshal Rommel throws in the main body of his armored strategic reserves for an all-out counter-attack. We should save our celebration until that assault has been dealt with, since it can be a nasty affair.

However, Rommel himself is in a mighty tight corner. His problem isn't that of dealing with the Cherbourg alone, but of guarding the entire coastline of western Europe and southern France. If he sends great strength against the peninsula, he lays himself open to Allied amphibious invasions at numerous other strategic points. He might handle one, but he can't deal with all of them satisfactorily at the same time.

To Attack in Force
Still, he has no choice but to defend the peninsula to the best of his ability. This great battle is one of the crucial engagements of the war, for while Rommel couldn't prevent the Allies from establishing a second front by defeating them at Cherbourg, yet he might delay our ultimate success greatly.

So we must expect the Nazis to attack in force in the immediate future and try to drive the Allies back into the sea. One of our most powerful weapons against this assault will be our vast superiority in the air. We shall depend heavily on that to deal with enemy concentrations of troops and tanks, and with movements on railways and highways leading to the peninsula.

Another tower of strength rests in the Allied warships lying off Cherbourg. You will not that today's communique says "enemy mobile batteries have been under heavy fire from Allied warships." The great naval guns not only have been ironing out batteries, but are working on enemy concentrations. Their fire is directed by warplanes—the eyes of land and sea gunners.

Immediate Aim
Despite the bad weather, the Allies have continued to land troops and supplies. The Germans today estimate the Allied forces at between 20 and 25 divisions—four or five being paratroop divisions. With divisions at normal strength that might mean some 300,000 men. We are lucky if we have that many.

The immediate Allied aim is to isolate the peninsula by slashing across the base, and to take the port of Cherbourg. This ambition involves the capture of the big and heavily defended railway and highway junctions of Caen, and Saint Lo. As a counter move, the Germans are attacking both Allied flanks on the fifty mile front growing out of the beachheads.

"Grand News"
The Allies are getting ahead with the job, for today's reports place a spearhead half way across the peninsula. Particularly heavy fighting was proceeding in the area of the three railway junctions, and the German controlled Paris radio said that Allied paratroops were attacking a Nazi force east of Cherbourg.

At Caen, where bitter fighting has been proceeding almost since the earliest landing, General Montgomery today launched an encircling attack on the town with Canadian and British troops. The capture of this place is of great importance, because it is the main direct gateway of approach for Rommel's reinforcements. Meantime American forces were driving towards St. Lo from the northeast.

And don't overlook the grand news from Moscow. The Russians have launched an offensive which is sweeping into Finland—Hitler's left flank. The great millstones finally are grinding on both sides of Hitler.

DETAIN WRITER UPON RETURN

Philadelphia, June 12 (AP)—The U. S. Immigration and Naturalization service said today that Alice Leone Moats, journalist, is being detained at Miami for investigation because she entered enemy territory in Europe.

Miss Moats, author of "Blind Date With Mars" and a correspondent for Collier's Weekly, was taken to an Immigration Detention station on her arrival by Clipper from Lisbon last Thursday, the service said.

The writer said in Lisbon early this month that she had made a two-weeks visit in France and planned to "tell and write my story" in this country. Her passport was cancelled there. The Immigration service said it did not know how she was able to return.

Her detention was asked by the State department and investigations are being made by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and Army and Navy Intelligence officers, the Immigration service reported.

The State department has declined to discuss the case but issued a general statement saying that anyone who entered enemy-held territory and conversed with the enemy probably would lose passport facilities.

WRITER URGES BOND BUYING

Indianapolis June 12 (AP)—Booth Tarkington noted Hoosier author, appealed today to citizens of the United States to give their "bottom dollar" and "last shirt" for the Fifth War Loan Drive.

"If for us today invasion meant the opposite of what it does mean, that is, if America instead of Europe were the direction taken by the invasion, how would we be behaving? How would we, for instance, be responding to the United States Treasury's Fifth War Loan Drive?"

"Of course, the answer is that, if America were being invaded we'd be giving our bottom dollar and our last shirt. Because, naturally, we'd rather save our skin than our shirt. The rewards for patriots who support this great lasting war with war bonds are plain. Intangibly we gain emotional steadiness that comes from a clear conscience, from knowing that we have done our best with dollars to back our men with guns."

"By buying and holding our war bonds we share in the fight, calm our own nerves, strengthen our land and, furthermore, we prepare for peace by storing up money that later when our bonds mature, we can spend for ourselves and our children at a time when peace shall have made spending useful rather than weakening and foolish."

The first American trade association was formed in 1768 when 20 New York merchants agreed to cooperate in promoting their businesses.

LT. COLS. CLUTZ, PLANK, SERVING IN PERSIA ZONE

Five Gettysburg men, two of them residents of Gettysburg and all graduates of Gettysburg college, are helping push through supplies to the mighty Red Army over what history will probably record as one of the most important supply routes in the world today—the Persian Gulf Command—according to a story released by the Persian Gulf Command today.

From the Persian gulf across blistering deserts and plains where the highest temperatures in the world have been recorded to the bleak Elburz mountains in north Persia where 14,000-foot peaks remain snow-capped all year around, American boys have been on the job for two years and Gettysburg men have helped lead them, the article points out.

The five Gettysburg men, stationed in various parts of Iran, are Lt. Col. Wilbur L. Plank, Springs avenue; Lt. Col. J. J. Clutz, son of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Clutz, West Broadway, and Chaplain P. M. Willard, Captain John J. Cheloden and First Lt. P. S. Thomas, all graduates of Gettysburg college.

Operate Railroad
Lieutenant Colonel Clutz is the commanding officer of a railroad operating battalion whose big job is moving the supplies up to a point where the Russians take over. He is in daily contact with Russian officers and men. Few people know better than he the admiration and respect the Russians have for the hard-working, ingenious American boys, who have done a job in Iran that many thought impossible. And few are better acquainted than he with the monumental task our boys are doing to earn this respect of our great ally, for Lieutenant Colonel Clutz knows every bit of material that travels over the Trans-Iranian railroad. He is known as one of the men behind the success of this road, one of the men who has had a big part in doing the impossible. Colonel Clutz is also superintendent of the Teheran Terminal, one of the most modern and beautiful installations in the whole of Iran.

Lt. Col. Plank is the executive officer and the director of supply for the Mountain district as well as purchasing and contracting officer for the command. His headquarters are in Teheran, the now famous meeting place of Roosevelt, Stalin and Churchill. The colonel had some interesting experiences in connection with the conference when some lighting difficulties arose and it was remembered that the colonel was an electrical engineer. From his headquarters in Teheran the colonel sal-

First American Cemetery In France Is In Nazi Minefield

By JOHN A. MOROSO, III
An American Beachhead Cemetery, France, June 9 (Delayed AP)—Stretched out on their backs with their pitiful personal belongings lying beside them on this bomb-blasted, shell-scorched bit of the Normandy beach lie the American dead—men and boys who paid the supreme price for wresting this strongly fortified position from the Nazis in a daring daylight amphibious assault.

They lie here mutely waiting while troops dig long trenches for temporary mass burial. Nearby, also awaiting burial, are the bodies of 10 Germans and two Britons.

Negro troops digging these common graves labor silently with an occasional averted glance at the stiff forms under the white covers that had been thrown over them.

This is America's first cemetery in France in this war. It is not a pretentious place. A few days ago it was a German minefield separating the beach defenses from the rugged pill boxes and forts in a steep hill that rises a few hundred yards from the ugly, rock-strewn beaches.

When the Americans swarmed onto the beaches through murderous surf, angry German guns mowed them down. The cold greedy water of the wrathful channel, lashed by a three-day wind, clutched at some, sucking them down.

This battle was so fierce that our grave registration officers—men who buy the dead and tell the folks home about them—had to spend most of their times in foxholes. When the enemy retreated into the hills these officers gathered their weary men and began bringing bodies to this place—where the green grass is turned black from the fury of high explosives.

Another cemetery is being prepared nearby because this hallowed ground is too small to care for the men who will not fight again.

lies forth two and three times a month to cover the Mountain district and see that things are running smoothly. There is much to watch over in the Mountain district, for not only are the largest railroad installations in Iran located there, but the tracks of the Motor Transport Service are constantly moving through the rugged mountains over a road known as "The Second Burma Road."

Temperature 175

A multitude of problems that confront the men who operate the district pass through Colonel Plank's hands sooner or later. Colonel Plank is also the commanding officer of the Ordnance Battalion located in the heart of the hottest spot in Persia. It is not infrequent that the thermometer climbs to 175 degrees there, and for six months, from April through September, the temperature stays well over one hundred. All through the summer when the natives migrated to the cooler mountains, the "crazy" Americans stayed on the job pushing through incredible amounts of supplies. In the summer of 1943 the colonel was advised that the terrific pace he sets and the heat didn't go well together. The colonel couldn't slow down his pace so he was sent to the Mountain district where the summers are less severe.

Captain Cheloden is the Chief of Surgical service in a hospital in Teheran. The captain, though overseas over 18 months, is a recent arrival in Iran. He has spent most of his time in Egypt and has also been to Palestine and Syria. Though Captain Cheloden missed the Teheran conference, he was in Cairo during the Cairo conference and saw to the trip back home.

AERIAL BLOWS HAMMER NAZIS ON ALL FRONTS

By GLADWIN HILL
Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, June 12 (AP)—American heavy bombers and streams of lighter craft pumped a steady hail of bombs and lead into German defenses today in the greatest aerial blows to date supporting the French invasion.

Flying in fine weather, the Allied air forces by noon had run up more sorties than all day yesterday—when 7,000 planes slammed the Germans from dawn on—after a night in which RAF bombers pounded four key rail centers in France west to Berlin—heavies, mediums, lights, fighter-bombers and fighters raced over the battlelines and far into France, bombing and strafing.

Help Ground Units
A significant new point in the support campaign became apparent. Squadrons of RAF fighters were attacking specific targets in rapid-fire order on calls from ground units—which meant that newly established air bases on French soil were clicking.

Besides the speedy knockout of particular objectives immediately in front of the troops, the campaign was proceeding along two main lines—disruption of transport lines within 100 miles of the battleline over which Marshal Erwin Rommel is trying to bring up his tactical reserves and the bombardment of rail centers beyond the 100-mile radius through which the Germans might draw on strategic reserves in southern France.

The German air force was responding with heightening strength. About 100 enemy planes were over the battle area last night and American Thunderbolt fighter-bomber pilots returning from an early morning foray reported opposition "the roughest yet."

Heavy Enemy Flak
The Thunderbolts were jumped by about 50 German fighters, but the Allied pilots said enemy flak still was the biggest hazard.

The Germans also claimed to have sunk one small troop transport in the Seine bay last night.

American Marauders and Havocs bombed railroad and highway bridge targets at Annay sur Odon, southwest of Caen, La Havre du Puits, west of Caen, and Conde sur Noireau, south of Caen, without loss, and paraded concentration of troops at Falaise, southeast of Caen, flying so low that a sergeant gunner reported, "You could pick out German lieutenants from sergeants and shoot the lieutenants."

Before breakfast time railroad yards, German road convoys and a seaplane base near Caudebec had been attacked by RAF mediums.

Then a force of about 1,000 Fortress and Liberator with swarming hundreds of escorting fighters swept in upon some of the airbases into which the Germans belatedly were shutting part of their lean air force.

Paris Radio Closes
For some hours after dawn, the noise of aircraft was heard over the English south coast as planes headed out to give direct support to Allied troops on the Normandy battlefront. The formation of heavy bombers winged its way over London.

At 9 a. m. (3 a. m. EDT) the Paris radio left the air in the middle of its news broadcast, indicating that area again was under attack.

The big thunderbirds of the RAF in their seventh straight night of invasion-supporting raids, ranged over France last night all the way from the Paris area to the west coast port of Nantes.

They bombed the rail junctions at Evreux, Nantes, Tours and Massy-Palaiseau, Nantes and Tours, respectively 225 and 130 miles southwest of Paris, are junctions through which Field Marshal Edwin Rommel's emboldened forces might receive reinforcements from the German Army group in the south of France. The Evreux and Massy-Palaiseau junctions are potential air force.

Both on the outbound rail-blazing shuttle trip to Russia and on the homeward journey the American heavy bombers were personally commanded by Lt. Gen. Ira C. Eakman, chief of the Allied Mediterranean Air Force.

DEWEY'S VISIT HERE MAY BE HIS PEAK MARK

Gettysburg—high water mark in the Civil War, may also have seen a high water mark for Governor Thomas E. Dewey, Republican presidential hopeful, according to an article by Drew Pearson Washington columnist appearing in a Philadelphia paper Sunday.

Whether or not the conclusions reported in Mr. Pearson's column were correct, however, Gettysburg's Memorial Day program this year and come in for much praise of Governor Ed Thayer, of Minnesota, during the reported five-day luncheon of the governors as given by the Washington column.

Pearson quotes Thayer as asserting he considered it a rare and impressive privilege to drive to Gettysburg and witness the broadcast of Governor Saltonstall of Massachusetts, and Governor Droughton, of North Carolina, the North and the South—to American troops abroad.

"Impressive Ceremony"
"It was a most impressive ceremony and one from which the entire country benefited," Pearson quotes Thayer as saying.

Thayer's praise for Gettysburg is said by Pearson to have come when Dewey is said to have told the governors that too much time was spent on "entertainment, sight-seeing tours and Chamber of Commerce speeches during the governor's meeting."

Pearson's story follows: "Maybe it is just the wishful thinking of certain GOP leaders who never did like Gov. Dewey, but political observers seem to detect a

Nearly 7,000 Allied planes, flying in support of the Normandy offensive yesterday, gave the Germans the heaviest series of daylight blows since the invasion began.

McSherrystown Boy Is German Prisoner

Put. Leo J. Krichen, former Delone Catholic high school football player, who was wounded in action in Italy in January, is now a prisoner of the Germans. He has notified his parents Mr. and Mrs. Earl Krichen, 341 Main street, McSherrystown.

The 26-year-old infantryman entered the armed forces 13 months ago Saturday, went overseas five months later, and arrived in Italy seven months to the day after his induction. He was in Italy less than six weeks when he was wounded. He was out of the hospital less than a month when he was taken prisoner.

First indication that Leo's son was held by the Nazis came last week when Mr. and Mrs. Krichen received a printed card on which he had printed his name, rank and unit, together with the date March 11, 1944. The form Prisoner of War postcard is of the type provided by the Nazis to prisoners.

shift of sentiment lately. They say that Dewey reached his peak just before the Governors' Conference at Hershey, Pa., and has declined since.

"Whether this is true or not, it is true that his fellow Republican Governors certainly came away from Hershey in a mood of thumbs down on the chief GOP hopeful. Clunk of their dislike came during the last meeting of the Governors' Conference—a closed-door, off-the-record session.

Dewey Criticism
"At it Dewey rose and, in a cautious, half-apologetic manner, said that while he was a sophomore at these conferences, having attended only two, nevertheless he felt obligated to make a suggestion. As he said, he felt that more time should be given to the governors for conferences with each other on State problems. Too much time, he said, was spent on entertainment, sight-seeing tours and Chamber of Commerce speeches.

"Gov. Dewey went into this at some length and, during the course of his remarks, it was noticeable that Gov. Edward Martin of Pennsylvania looked somewhat uncomfortable. When Dewey finished, Gov. Saltonstall of Massachusetts, presiding, rebuffed Dewey by expressing the opinion that the Governors had ample time to confer with each other.

"I am quite sure," he added, "that the Governor of New York meant no reflection on the Governor of Pennsylvania, who has worked so hard to arrange our delightful entertainment program."

"His Own Worst Enemy"
"Other Governors went to the defense of Gov. Martin especially Gov. Ed Thayer, who replaced Stassen in Minnesota. He said he considered it a rare and impressive privilege to drive to Gettysburg and witness the broadcast of Gov. Saltonstall of Massachusetts and Gov. Broughton of North Carolina—the North and the South—to American troops abroad.

"It was a most impressive ceremony," said Gov. Thayer, and one from which the entire country benefited. Certainly I for one considered it no Chamber of Commerce stunt.

"At this point Democratic Governors began to sense that this was a marvelous opportunity to embarrass the leading Republican candidate, Dewey. But before they could take advantage of it further, Republican Gov. Snell of Oregon, also sensing the situation, moved to refer Gov. Dewey's proposal to the executive committee. This was done.

"Later, Democratic Gov. Hunt of Wyoming was a guest with other colleagues in the Union League, Philadelphia's inner sanctum of Republicanism, where Gov. Martin was also present.

"The leader of the stop-Dewey movement at Hershey, remarked the Pennsylvania Governor, was Mr. Dewey himself.

"This seemed to be the unanimous impression."

A significant new point in the support campaign became apparent. Squadrons of RAF fighters were attacking specific targets in rapid-fire order on calls from ground units—which meant that newly established air bases on French soil were clicking.

Besides the speedy knockout of particular objectives immediately in front of the troops, the campaign was proceeding along two main lines—disruption of transport lines within 100 miles of the battlefield over which Marshal Erwin Rommel was trying to bring up his tactical reserves and the bombardment of rail centers beyond the 100-mile radius through which the Germans might draw on strategic reserves in southern France.

The German air force was responding with heightening strength. About 100 enemy planes were over the battle area last night and American Thunderbolt fighter-bomber pilots returning from an early morning foray reported opposition "the roughest yet."

Heavy Enemy Flak
The Thunderbolts were jumped by about 50 German fighters, but the Allied pilots said enemy flak still was the biggest hazard.

The Germans also claimed to have sunk one small troop transport in the Seine bay last night.

American Raiders and Havocs bombed railroad and highway bridge targets at Aunay sur Odon, southwest of Caen, La Havre du Puits, west of Caen, and Conde sur Noireau, south of Caen, without loss, and panicked concentration of troops at Fallaise, southeast of Caen, flying so low that a sergeant gunner reported, "You could pick out German lieutenants from sergeants and shoot the lieutenants."

AERIAL BLOWS HAMMER NAZIS ON ALL FRONTS

By GLADWIN HILL
Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, June 12 (AP)—American heavy bombers and streams of lighter craft pumped a steady hail of bombs and lead into German defenses today in the greatest aerial blows to date supporting the French invasion.

Flying in fine weather, the Allied air forces by noon had run up more sorties than all day yesterday—when 7,000 planes slammed the Germans from dawn on—after a night in which RAF bombers pounded four key rail centers in France went to Berlin—heavies, mediums, lights, fighter-bombers and fighters raced over the battlelines and far into France, bombing and strafing.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer E. Elker, Ontario, California, announce the birth of a daughter on June 8. Mrs. Elker is the former Dorothy Redding, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Redding, Gettysburg R. 2. Mr. Elker is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Elker, Gettysburg R. 3.

Chaplain Willard is a recent arrival. He is stationed in the desert with the Ordnance Battalion commanded by Lt. Col. Plank.

Trouble Shooter
Lieutenant Thomas is working at an ordnance depot somewhere in southern Iran. He originally came over as a member of Colonel Plank's battalion. Since that time he has been all over Iran serving as a trouble shooter in various capacities.

Because of the pressure of their work and their location over the command, the men have had no opportunity to get together. Colonel Clutz, Colonel Plank and Captain Chelieden, who are all in Teheran, have managed to get together once, but there is little likelihood that all of the men will be able to meet until such time as they are back in the USA.

The men feel a rather personal interest in the success of the mighty Red Army for they feel they have had a share in helping Stalin's men keep going. But they are all wishing for the day when they can say goodbye to Persia and look forward to the trip back home.

Paris Radio Closes
For some hours after dawn, the noise of aircraft was heard over the English south coast as planes headed out to give direct support to Allied troops on the Normandy battlefield. The formation of heavy bombers winged its way over London.

At 9 a. m. (3 a. m. EWT) the Paris radio left the air in the middle of its news broadcast, indicating that area again was under attack.

The big thunderbirds of the RAF in their seventh straight night of invasion-supporting raids, ranged over France last night all the way from the Paris area to the west coast port of Nantes.

They bombed the rail junctions at Evreux, Nantes, Tours and Massy-Palaiseau. Nantes and Tours, respectively 225 and 130 miles southwest of Paris, are junctions through which Field Marshal Edwin Rommel's embattled forces might receive reinforcements from the German Army group in the south of France. Then a force of around 1,000 Fortresses and Liberators with swarming hundreds of escorting fighters swept in upon some of the airbases into which the Germans belatedly were shutting part of their lean air force.

4,000 Pound Bombs
The blow against Berlin was delivered by twin-engined Mosquitos which pounded the German capital with 4,000-pound bombs.

Nearly 7,000 Allied planes, flying in support of the Normandy offensive yesterday, gave the Germans the heaviest series of daylight blows since the invasion began.

Across Europe U. S. heavy bombers took off from new bases in Russia and bombed Balkan air fields of the Axis yesterday during their return trip to the Italian bases they left on June 2.

Both on the outbound trail-blazing shuttle trip to Russia and on the homeward journey the American heavy bombers were personally commanded by Lt. Gen. Ira C. Eaker, chief of the Allied Mediterranean air force.

DEWEY'S VISIT HERE MAY BE HIS PEAK MARK

Gettysburg—high water mark in the Civil War, may also have been a high water mark for Governor Thomas E. Dewey, Republican presidential hopeful, according to an article by Drew Pearson, Washington columnist, appearing in a Philadelphia paper Sunday.

Whether or not the conclusions reported in Mr. Pearson's column were correct however, Gettysburg's Memorial Day program this year did come in for high praise by Governor Ed Thye, of Minnesota, during the reported flare-up among the governors as given by the Washington columnist.

Pearson quotes Thye as asserting he considered it "a rare and impressive privilege to drive to Gettysburg and witness the broadcast of Governor Saltonstall of Massachusetts and Governor Broughton, of North Carolina, the North and the South—to American troops abroad."

"Impressive Ceremony"
"It was a most impressive ceremony and one from which the entire country benefited," Pearson quotes Thye as saying.

Thye's praise for Gettysburg is said by Pearson to have come when Dewey is said to have told the governors that too much time was spent on "entertainment, sight-seeing tours and Chamber of Commerce speeches during the governors' meeting."

Pearson's story follows: "Maybe it is just the wishful thinking of certain GOP leaders who never did like Gov. Dewey, but political observers seem to detect a shift of sentiment lately. They say that Dewey reached his peak just before the Governors' Conference at Hershey, Pa., and has declined since."

Dewey Criticism
"At it Dewey rose and, in a gracious, half-apologetic manner, said that while he was a sophomore at these conferences, having attended only two, nevertheless he felt obliged to make a suggestion. As he saw it, he felt that more time should be given to the governors for conferences with each other on State problems. Too much time, he said, was spent on entertainment, sight-seeing tours and Chamber of Commerce speeches."

"Gov. Dewey went into this at some length and, during the course of his remarks, it was noticeable that Gov. Edward Martin of Pennsylvania looked somewhat uncomfortable. When Dewey finished, Gov. Saltonstall of Massachusetts, presiding, rebuffed Dewey by expressing the opinion that the Governors had ample time to confer with each other."

"I am quite sure," he added, "that the Governor of New York meant no reflection on the Governor of Pennsylvania, who has worked so hard to arrange our delightful entertainment program."

"His Own Worst Enemy"
"Other Governors went to the defense of Gov. Martin especially Gov. Ed Thye, who replaced Stassen in Minnesota. He said he considered it a rare and impressive privilege to drive to Gettysburg and witness the broadcast of Gov. Saltonstall of Massachusetts and Gov. Broughton of North Carolina—the North and the South—to American troops abroad."

"It was a most impressive ceremony," said Gov. Thye, and one from which the entire country benefited. Certainly I for one considered it no Chamber of Commerce stunt."

"At this point Democratic Governors began to sense that this was a marvelous opportunity to embarrass the leading Republican candidate, Dewey. But before they could take advantage of it further, Republican Gov. Snell of Oregon, also sensing the situation, moved to refer Gov. Dewey's proposal to the executive committee. This was done."

"Later, Democratic Gov. Hunt of Wyoming was a guest with other colleagues in the Union League, Philadelphia's inner sanctum of Republicanism, where Gov. Martin was also present."

"The leader of the stop-Dewey movement at Hershey, remarked the Pennsylvania Governor, was Mr. Dewey himself."

"This seemed to be the unanimous impression."

McSherrystown Boy Is German Prisoner

Pvt. Leo J. Krichen, former Delone Catholic high school football player, who was wounded in action in Italy in January, is now a prisoner of the Germans, he has notified his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Krichen, 341 Main street, McSherrystown.

The 20-year-old infantryman entered the armed forces 13 months ago Saturday, went overseas five months later, and arrived in Italy seven months to the day after his induction. He was in Italy less than six weeks when he was wounded, was out of the hospital less than a month when he was taken prisoner.

First indication that their son was held by the Nazis came this week when Mr. and Mrs. Krichen received a printed card on which he had printed his name, rank, and unit, together with the date, March 11, 1944. The form Prisoner of War post card is of the type provided by the Nazis to prisoners.

MRS. KEPNER DIES IN IOWA

Word was received here Saturday of the death on June 9 at Boone, Iowa, of Mrs. Louella (Hoover) Kepner, 76, widow of James Kepner, who for many years was janitor at the Meade school building. Mrs. Kepner died in a hospital at Boone where she was taken from the home of a sister, Mrs. Richard Crooks, where she had been living since February.

Mrs. Kepner's home here was at 32 West Confederate avenue and she had lived there for a number of years until going to Iowa early this year. She had been in ill health before going to Iowa and was a patient at the Warner hospital here for a time. She had suffered a stroke.

Surviving in addition to the sister are a step-son, Prof. Will Kepner of the University of Virginia; another sister, Mrs. Edward Snyder, Sr., of Detroit, and a brother, George Hoover, of Shippensburg. There is one grandson, Weldon Kepner.

The body will be taken to Shippensburg for interment. Committal services will be held there at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon with the Rev. Howard S. Fox, pastor of Trinity Evangelical and Reformed church of which she was a member, officiating.

An Evening Thought
A man's good-breeding is the best security against another's bad manners.—Chesterfield.

Just Folks
GOING ON FOUR
This progress called growth is both rapid and slow.
To youngsters it takes "such a long time" to grow.
To oldsters, like me, who must now backward look,
There is only the shock of the short time it took.
Now she is boasting achievement once more:
Ellen Elizabeth's going on four!

Seems only yesterday, let it be said,
Mother and I were both called out of bed;
Informed if we hurried to dress and to drive
On time at the hospital we might arrive.
We did so! For hours I was pacing the floor!
Now Ellen Elizabeth's going on four!
Seems only yesterday, bottle in crib,
I laughed as she dribbled all over her bib.
Seems only yesterday, high in my arms,
I romped with that cute little bundle of charms.
Now she is proudly announcing Time's score:
"I'm free and a half, but I'm going on four."

Today's Talk
SHAREHOLDER IN YOUR COUNTRY
We who have been born and reared in a free land know the meaning of it all. Mostly we have accepted its benefits without much thought. Only when this free life is endangered do we begin to realize its priceless worth.
Everything in nature has to fight for its existence. Human beings have to do the same, individually. So does a nation, for each of us is but a unit of that nation. If we would happily live, that land which is our country also must fight to protect and assure its life. Nothing is more tragic than the fact that war often becomes the means whereby its freedom must be preserved.
Free peoples, having long experienced the blessings of liberty, hate all war. But, unfortunately, we live in one world, now more closely knit than ever before, and it is impossible for one part of this world to suffer tragedy without every other part feeling it. We are dependent upon one another. In the blood we are one people—brothers all.
At this time it is our privilege to become real shareholders in the land that we love. Every single bond bought makes us a shareholder in our country's future—and every dollar that we can loan will be used to make certain the Victory for which our hearts yearn and for which we pray.
Wars have to be paid for, not only in blood and tears, but in money. If our boys can give all of that they are and have, then we surely can give liberally, and continually, from our earnings, that their sacrifices may not have been in vain.
Another reason why it is highly important that we support our country by buying its bonds lies in the fact that the ugly head of Inflation would bring to our very doorsteps a fear such as we have never known. Bonds, and more bonds, bought will go far to make such a possibility an impossibility.
Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Too Much Talk."

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO
Escape—Joseph Sweikert, the individual, who committed robbery at Mr. Weaver's house in this place and who was arrested at Frederick, made his escape a few miles from town on Friday evening, and is again at large. Mr. Weaver was bringing him to this place from Frederick for trial. He asked permission to leave the stage for a few minutes to go into the woods; and whilst there with celerity removed his iron by unlocking them with a key in his possession, and before Mr. Weaver was aware, the gentleman was off, leaving his fetters behind him.
Mr. Weaver has offered a reward for his apprehension. Editors of papers would do the public a benefit by giving the advertisement an insertion or two, as he is beyond doubt a consummate villain.

NEW ESTIMATE ON '44 INCOME MAY BE FILED
By JAMES MARLOW and GEORGE ZIELKE
Washington, June 12 (AP)—If you're paying on a declaration of estimated federal income tax—because of income not covered by the withholding system—you may want to file an amended declaration and change your June 15 payment.
There won't be any penalty if the recent change in the law results in an underestimate of your tax as finally figured next March. However, you might find a new declaration worthwhile in either of two cases:
1. If the new tax simplification or a change in dependency in your family reduces your tax.
Reduced For Some
2. If the new law raises your tax and you want to spread out the increase over three payments. This point applies particularly to childless married couples.
The tax simplification law reduces the 1944 tax for those with two or more dependents.
What's more, it broadened the definition of dependents to include any close relative dependent for more than half of his or her support during the year. The only other requirement is that the dependent must have less than $500 of income during the year. (Income of more than $500 makes a person a taxpayer, regardless of age.)
New Dependency Rules
This change removed the age limit. Now a taxpayer sending a son or daughter to college may take an exemption for the child even if more than 18 years old.
The new definition also works out in these ways:
1. A full-year exemption is granted for a child born any time during the year.
2. If a dependent dies during the year, the exemption holds for the entire year.
Similarly, if a wife or husband dies during the year, the full-year exemption is allowed.

SCRAP HISTORIC IRON FURNACE
Downingtown, Pa., June 12 (AP)—Historic Isabella Furnace, for many years a silent monument to Pennsylvania's great ironmasters of the 19th century, has been turned into scrap for war production.
It was dismantled and its metal salvaged as part of a $220,000 deal involving transfer of Wyebrook, Chester county estate with a 67-room Victorian mansion, to Frank Bloise, New York garment manufacturer, it was disclosed last night by W. S. Henderson, Downingtown real estate dealer.
Many attempts had been made to preserve the Isabella and at the time the Franklin Institute of Philadelphia bid on its huge water wheel but found no way to get it into the building.
Last operated in the late 1890's by the famous ironmaster Joseph D. Potts, who built Wyebrook's mansion, the Isabella had been maintained in operating condition by its most recent owner, Lt. William Wilkoff Smith, 24, of the Army air forces, who sold the estate.
Henderson said the new owner now lives in a suite of the castle-like mansion, which stands on a secluded 1,800-acre tract that is nearly half woodland.
Original cost of the estate has been estimated at $1,000,000.

Life Saved By Fast Thinking Of Woman
Philadelphia, June 12 (AP)—Quick action by Mrs. Margaret Mazzio, 32, was credited today with saving the life of John Connerion, 64, after he fell from a subway platform into the path of an oncoming train.
Falling in her efforts to help the dazed man back onto the platform, Mrs. Mazzio shouted at him: "Get under the ledge and hold your breath!"
He did, the cars missed him by inches, and Mrs. Mazzio fainted. Connerion did, too, after the train had grated to a sudden stop. Both were treated at a hospital.

Fifth Army Is 71 Miles Above Rome
By EDWARD KENNEDY
Rome, June 12 (AP)—Fifth Army troops have occupied Montefiascone, an important road junction near the shores of Lake Bolsena, and other columns pushing along the Italian west coast are approaching Orbetello, 71 miles northwest of Rome, Allied headquarters announced today.
Eighth Army columns advancing up both sides of the Tiber neared Bagno Reggione west of the river and Rieti east of it.
In the mountainous central sector, Avezano and its neighboring villages have been occupied while in the Adriatic sector all Germans have been cleared from the area south of the Pescara river and Allied troops have pushed ahead to maintain contact with the withdrawing Germans.
Beat German Drive
A gain of 15 miles was announced for Fifth Army units along the west coast. Near Nunziatello the Germans counter-attacked with two companies, but the Americans beat them back and continued the drive.
Among the areas to fall into Allied hands was Lake Fucino near Avezano, which some years ago was drained and now is a 45,000-acre tract of rich farmland.
Headquarters disclosed that the Sixth South African Armored Division was among the Eighth Army units which advanced through the Liri and Sacco valleys.
After distinguishing itself in engagements there, this division made a "ghost move" by entering Fifth Army territory, passing swiftly through Rome despite the congestion of the city and then shooing northward more than 50 miles up the west bank of the Tiber.
"It is now quite clear," a headquarters announcement said, "that the original 14th Army of (Col. Gen. Eberhard) Von Mackensen has been dispersed to the four winds."
What is left of the German Army, which once included the Fourth Parachute, appears to have been put on an every-man-for-himself basis in a retreat to Florence.

ADMINISTRATION WORRIED ABOUT TEXAS TANGLE
By JACK BELL
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
With the southern dissatisfaction assuming the proportions of an organized revolt, Administration forces maneuvered today to get a set of fourth-term supporting electors on to the Texas Democratic primary ballot.
The Democratic State Executive committee met in Dallas to canvass filings of office aspirants, with a demand expected from supporters of President Roosevelt that the 23 electors named by their separate convention be listed on the July 22 ballot, along with those chosen by the regular party meeting, for the people to choose between them.
Anti-Administration regulars, who picked a group and instructed them not to support the party Presidential nominee unless the two-thirds nominating rule is restored and other conditions are met, contended that their action constituted the final choice of electors. Action either way by the executive committee may plunge the issue into the courts.
See Willkie Indicator
Party leaders in Washington are more worried about the Texas situation than that in Mississippi and South Carolina, where somewhat similar actions have been taken by Democratic conventions, because they suspect the root of the trouble lies in the Lone Star state.
Their suspicions were confirmed to an extent when a group of anti-Administration Democrats, meeting at Shreveport, Louisiana, last week, named E. B. Germany, who managed the unsuccessful Presidential campaign of former Vice President John M. Garner in 1940, as chairman on a several-state organization.
Meanwhile politicians quickly interpreted the appearance of the first of a series of eight articles Wendell L. Willkie has written on his ideas for the Republican platform as indicating that the 1940 Presidential nominee intends to support the ticket this year if he can see his way clear to do so.

RESCUE FAILS
Meadville, Pa., June 12 (AP)—Efforts of companions to rescue Keith McGroory, 16-year-old high school senior, from French creek proved futile yesterday. Deputy Coroner Samuel Gottlieb said. Firemen recovered the body four hours later.
McGroory was last seen on the shore of French creek, where he was fishing. His companions, who were with him when he disappeared, said they tried to pull him out but failed. They then called for help, but no one came. McGroory was last seen on the shore of French creek, where he was fishing. With the help of the neighbors, many a little red schoolhouse was built. That readiness to help the folks down the road and the family across the square was the strength of our early America, the foundation for our democracy. Because of it, we have a greater heritage to defend than any other people on Earth.
In these wartime days, the spirit of neighborliness so characteristic of our people is again paying dividends. Did you ever dream ten years ago that today you would pull up to the curb and offer a ride to a stranger? That you would have a bundle of salvaged paper ready when the Boy Scouts called? That you would walk home with awkward packages because your dealers have difficulty making deliveries? When you aid your neighbor, you aid your country. Isn't it surprising how many things one person can do to help win the war?

BATTLE TO CUT CHINA LINES IS NEARING CLIMAX
By J. B. KRUEGER
Associated Press War Editor.
Japan's determined campaign to seal off eastern China against future Allied use mounted toward a climax today in the furious battle for Changsha.
Chinese troops ordered to fight to the last man were backed up against the outer defenses of this key link in the Hankow-Canton railway. They were resisting formidable forces which have pushed 200 miles southward from the Hankow area.
Another Japanese force, Chungking reported, was driving northward out of Canton along the railroad, aiming at closing a vice on the oft-embattled city.
Serious Stage
The gravity of the battle prompted Maj. Gen. Claire L. Chennault to declare the Pacific war could be prolonged for years if Japan were allowed to build a defensive wall along the railroad. The two-sided threat to Changsha, he added, had brought the China war to its most furious peak in six years.
The other four Pacific battle fronts were going well for the Allies. From New Dutch Guinea bases Allied airmen flew heavy bombers against Palau for their first daylight raid on this island group guarding the eastern Philippines. It was a portent of the new turn Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Philippines-bound campaign has taken.
Adm. Chester Nimitz' forces almost simultaneously smashed at Guam and other enemy bases in the Mariana chain of islands, also protecting the Philippines from the east. Palau in the Carolines and the Marianas form a defense wall the American commanders must breach to reach the Philippine islands and China.
Advance Half Mile
Allied forces moved half a mile deeper into Myitkyina, main enemy North Burma base controlling the Burma-China road. The city has been under siege for weeks and is all but isolated. Its airport is in Lt. Gen. Joseph Stilwell's hands.
The Chinese, pushing toward Myitkyina from southwest China captured Lungling, enemy base on the upper Burma road, halting the feat as their most important of the Salween offensive. The Chinese announced that now the China end of the famed road could carry supplies to the Salween army, heretofore dependent on mountain trails.

GOING ON FOUR
This progress called growth is both rapid and slow.
To youngsters it takes "such a long time" to grow.
To oldsters, like me, who must now backward look,
There is only the shock of the short time it took.
Now she is boasting achievement once more:
Ellen Elizabeth's going on four!

Seems only yesterday, let it be said,
Mother and I were both called out of bed;
Informed if we hurried to dress and to drive
On time at the hospital we might arrive.
We did so! For hours I was pacing the floor!
Now Ellen Elizabeth's going on four!

Seems only yesterday, bottle in crib,
I laughed as she dribbled all over her bib.
Seems only yesterday, high in my arms,
I romped with that cute little bundle of charms.
Now she is proudly announcing Time's score:
"I'm free and a haf, but I'm going on four."

Today's Talk
SHAREHOLDER IN YOUR COUNTRY
We who have been born and reared in a free land know the meaning of it all. Mostly we have accepted its benefits without much thought. Only when this free life is endangered do we begin to realize its priceless worth.

Everything in nature has to fight for its existence. Human beings have to do the same, individually. So does a nation, for each of us is but a unit of that nation. If we would happily live, that land which is our country also must fight to protect and assure its life. Nothing is more tragic than the fact that war often becomes the means whereby its freedom must be preserved.

Free peoples, having long experienced the blessings of liberty, hate all war. But, unfortunately, we live in one world, now more closely knit than ever before, and it is impossible for one part of this world to suffer tragedy without every other part feeling it. We are dependent upon one another. In the blood we are one people—brothers all.

At this time it is our privilege to become real shareholders in the land that we love. Every single bond bought makes us a shareholder in our country's future—and every dollar that we can loan will be used to make certain the Victory for which our hearts yearn and for which we pray.

Wars have to be paid for, not only in blood and tears, but in money. If our boys can give of all that they are and have, then we surely can give liberally, and continually, from our earnings, that their sacrifices may not have been in vain.

Another reason why it is highly important that we support our country by buying its bonds lies in the fact that the ugly head of Inflation would bring to our very doorsteps a Fear such as we have never known. Bonds, and more bonds, bought will go far to make such a possibility an impossibility.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Too Much Talk."

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO
Escape—Joseph Sweikert, the individual, who committed robbery at Mr. Weaver's house in this place and who was arrested at Frederick, made his escape a few miles from town on Friday evening, and is again at large. Mr. Weaver was bringing him to this place from Frederick for trial. He asked permission to leave the stage for a few minutes to go into the woods; and whilst there with dexterity removed his irons by unlocking them with a key in his possession, and before Mr. Weaver was aware, the gentleman was off, leaving his fetters behind him.

Mr. Weaver has offered a reward for his apprehension. Editors of papers would do the public a benefit by giving the advertisement an insertion or two, as he is beyond doubt a consummate villain.

Married: On Thursday by the Rev. S. M. Mullin, Mr. John Gallagher, to Miss Margaret Jane Newman—all of Gettysburg.

On the 8th ult., by the Rev. John Ulrich, Mr. William Yetts, to Miss Judith Stoner—both of this county.

On the 21st ult., by the same, Mr. Oliver House, of Bendersville (date of Baltimore), to Miss Catharine Weaver, of this county.

On the 6th inst., by the same, Mr. Moses Myers, to Miss Susanna Bushey—both of this county.

On the same day, by the same, Mr. Daniel Bricker, to Miss Elizabeth Yetts—both of this county.

On the 6th inst., by the Rev. John Heck, Mr. Peter Calvert, to Miss Esther Lefever (daughter of Jacob Lefever, Esq., formerly of Gettysburg), all of Cumberland county.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Enlarged: Col. Tate, the popular proprietor of the "Eagle Hotel," has added a three-story wing to his hotel on Washington street, which will give increased accommodations, besides enabling him to enlarge his dining room. The demand for hotel accommodations in Gettysburg is increasing year by year, and the present season, from all appearances, will test the utmost capacity of the different hotels, including the new one at the Katalysine Spring.

Excursion: The school of Rev. Zieber and Miss Fisher of Hanover had an excursion party of their school to the battlefield on Thursday. They spent the best part of the day on the field, and returned home well pleased and very tired.

Married: Deusel—Frey—On the 6th inst., by the Rev. E. Breidenbaugh, Mr. Levi Deusel to Mrs. Sarah A. Frey, all of this county.

Hillis—Nicolls—On the 19th ult., at Mt. Pleasant, Westmoreland county, Pa., at the residence of the bride's mother, by Rev. S. J. Nicolls, D.D., Rev. W. H. Hillis, pastor of the Presbyterian church, Gettysburg, to Miss Maggie Nicolls, sister of the officiating clergyman.

Motter—Rudisell—On the 3d inst., by Rev. P. Bergstresser, George T. Motter, M.D., and Mary L. Rudisell, all of Taneytown.

Shuman—Day—On the 15th ult., by Rev. D. M. Blackwelder, Mr. John H. Shuman, of York Springs, to Miss Elizabeth Jane Day, of Tyrone township.

Willett—Harnar—On the 27th ult., at the Reformed parsonage, Littlestown, by the Rev. John M. Clemens, Uriah Willett to Miss Susan E. Harnar, both of this county.

McCartney—Kendlehart—On Wednesday morning, at the residence of the bride's parents, by Rev. C. A. Hay, D.D., Wm. P. McCartney to Miss Margaretta B. Kendlehart, all of Gettysburg.

Organized—The new School Board in this place organized on Tuesday evening by appointing Hiram Warren president, John F. McCreary secretary, Dr. E. G. Fahnestock treasurer, and James McCreary collector. The board will meet on the 18th of June to elect teachers, on which day Mr. Wert, the new county superintendent will examine the applicants.

The annual session of the Grand Lodge of Good Templars met at Scranton, Pa., on Tuesday. The sessions were very harmonious. Capt. H. N. Minnigh, of the Morning Star Lodge No. 364, was the only representative from Adams county. Through his efforts we are to have the next session of the Grand Lodge in Gettysburg, in June, 1869.

The Klu Klux bands which have been spreading terror among the Unionists of Georgia and Alabama, are about to receive attention from Gen. Terry, the new military commander of the south. He has sent troops into those counties of Georgia where recent murders were committed with orders to arrest the perpetrators at whatever cost.

Strawberry Festival: The weather during the past week was very unpropitious for the Presbyterian festival, being cold and chilly. We understand that about $250 were realized, from which expenses are to be deducted.

The North Sea Canal in the Netherlands was one of the great engineering accomplishments of the 19th century.

NEW ESTIMATE ON '44 INCOME MAY BE FILED

By JAMES MARLOW and GEORGE ZIELKE

Washington, June 12 (AP)—If you're paying on a declaration of estimated federal income tax—because of income not covered by the withholding system—you may want to file an amended declaration and change your June 15 payment.

There won't be any penalty if the recent change in the law results in an underestimate of your tax as finally figured next March. However, you might find a new declaration worthwhile in either of two cases:

1. If the new tax simplification or a change in dependency in your family reduces your tax.

Reduced For Some
If the new law raises your tax and you want to spread out the increase over three payments. This point applies particularly to childless married couples.

The tax simplification law reduces the 1944 tax for those with two or more dependents.

What's more, it broadened the definition of dependents to include any close relative dependent for more than half of his or her support during the year. The only other requirement is that the dependent must have less than $500 of income during the year. (Income of more than $500 makes a person a taxpayer, regardless of age.)

New Dependency Rules
This change removed the age limit. Now a taxpayer sending a son or daughter to college may take an exemption for the child even if more than 18 years old.

The new definition also works out in these ways:

1. A full-year exemption is granted for a child born any time during the year.

2. If a dependent dies during the year, the exemption holds for the entire year.

Similarly, if a wife or husband dies during the year, the full-year exemption is allowed.

SCRAP HISTORIC IRON FURNACE

Downingtown, Pa., June 12 (AP)—Historic Isabella Furnace, for many years a silent monument to Pennsylvania's great ironmasters of the 19th century, has been turned into scrap for war production.

It was dismantled and its metal salvaged as part of a $220,000 deal involving transfer of Wyebrook, Chester county estate with a 67-room Victorian mansion, to Frank Bloise, New York garment manufacturer, it was disclosed last night by W. S. Henderson, Downingtown real estate dealer.

Many attempts had been made to preserve the Isabella and at the time the Franklin Institute of Philadelphia bid on its huge water wheel but found no way to get it into the building.

Last operated in the late 1880's by the famous ironmaster Joseph D. Potts, who built Wyebrook's mansion, the Isabella had been maintained in operating condition by its most recent owner, Lt. William Wilkoff Smith, 24, of the Army air forces, who sold the estate.

Henderson said the new owner now lives in a suite of the castle-like mansion, which stands on a secluded 1,800-acre tract that is nearly half woodland.

Original cost of the estate has been estimated at $1,000,000.

FIRE HALTS MINERS

Clarksville, Pa., June 12 (AP)—Eleven hundred employees of Clyde Mines Nos. 1 and 3 will remain idle for "another day or two," State Mine Inspector J. V. McKenna said, as a precautionary measure while the burning Chartiers Mine is under surveillance of federal and state mine officials.

WAR BONDS in Action

His GI shoes may get this corporal miles around the world, and 1,800,000 new pairs of shoes a month keep him company. That's 1,800,000 times $4.17 a pair each month for replacements for the Army alone. Keep on buying War Bonds and hold 'em!

Life Saved By Fast Thinking Of Woman

Philadelphia, June 12 (AP)—Quick action by Mrs. Margaret Mazzio, 32, was credited today with saving the life of John Connerton, 64, after he fell from a subway platform into the path of an on-coming train.

Failing in her efforts to help the dazed man back onto the platform, Mrs. Mazzio shouted at him: "Get under the ledge and hold your breath!"

He did, the cars missed him by inches, and Mrs. Mazzio fainted. Connerton did, too, after the train had grated to a sudden stop. Both were treated at a hospital.

Fifth Army Is 71 Miles Above Rome

By EDWARD KENNEDY

Rome, June 12 (AP)—Fifth Army troops have occupied Montefiascone, an important road junction near the shores of Lake Bolsena, and other columns pushing along the Italian west coast are approaching Orbetello, 71 miles northwest of Rome, Allied headquarters announced today.

Eighth Army columns advancing up both sides of the Tiber neared Bagno Reggione west of the river and Rieti east of it.

In the mountainous central sector, Avezzano and its neighboring villages have been occupied while in the Adriatic sector all Germans have been cleared from the area south of the Pescara river and Allied troops have pushed ahead to maintain contact with the withdrawing Germans.

Beat German Drive

A gain of 15 miles was announced for Fifth Army units along the west coast. Near Nunziatello the Germans counter-attacked with two companies, but the Americans beat them back and continued the drive. Among the areas to fall into Allied hands was Lake Fucino near Avezzano, which some years ago was drained and now is a 45,000-acre tract of rich farmland.

Headquarters disclosed that the Sixth South African Armored Division was among the Eighth Army units which advanced through the Liri and Sacco valleys.

After distinguishing itself in engagements there, this division made a "ghost move" by entering Fifth Army territory, passing swiftly through Rome despite the congestion of the city and then shooting northward more than 50 miles up the west bank of the Tiber.

"It is now quite clear," a headquarters announcement said, "that the original 14th Army of (Col. Gen. Eberhard) Von Mackensen has been dispersed to the four winds."

What is left of the German Army, which once included the Fourth Parachute, appears to have been put on an every-man-for-himself basis in a retreat to Florence.

Flashes Of Life

HOW'S THAT AGAIN?

Camp Pickett, Va. (AP)—Cpl. Lewis H. Applegarth, Rt. 2, Cadiz, Ohio, thinks his feminine correspondent is taking too seriously the Army's admonition, "button your lip."

He received a letter saying simply: "I'll be in town for the weekend."

What's worrying the corporal now is:

- (1) What week-end?
- (2) What town?
- (3) Who's the girl?

TIME TO QUIT

Hartford, Conn. (AP)—Observing that "women are still women," Cornelius A. Moylan, Unemployment Compensation commissioner, has reversed the decision of an examiner who refused to award compensation to a 19-year-old girl war plant worker who quit her job because a man working near her habitually used "profane and indecent language." Moylan said the girl had "good cause indeed to quit."

MARITAL TROUBLE

They'll have to wait the three days it takes to get a duplicate, because they never did find it.

REGRET

Oklahoma City (AP)—A traffic ticket for illegal parking finally caught up with Capt. James D. Adams, now stationed in New Guinea. He returned it, observing: "I sure would like to be parked approximately ten feet from that fire hydrant right now!"

ADMINISTRATION WORRIED ABOUT TEXAS TANGLE

By JACK BELL (Associated Press Staff Writer)

With the southern dissatisfaction assuming the proportions of an organized revolt, Administration forces maneuvered today to get a set of fourth-term supporting electors on to the Texas Democratic primary ballot.

The Democratic State Executive committee met in Dallas to canvass filings of office aspirants, with a demand expected from supporters of President Roosevelt that the 23 electors named by their separate convention be listed on the July 22 ballot, along with those chosen by the regular party meeting, for the people to choose between them.

Anti-Administration regulars, who picked a group and instructed them not to support the party Presidential nominee unless the two-thirds nominating rule is restored and other conditions are met, contended that their action constituted the final choice of electors. Action either way by the executive committee may plunge the issue into the courts.

See Willkie Indicator

Party leaders in Washington are more worried about the Texas situation than that in Mississippi and South Carolina, where somewhat similar actions have been taken by Democratic conventions, because they suspect the root of the trouble lies in the Lone Star state.

Their suspicions were confirmed to an extent when a group of anti-Administration Democrats, meeting at Shreveport, Louisiana, last week, named E. B. Germany, who managed the unsuccessful Presidential campaign of former Vice President John M. Garner in 1940, as chairman on a several-state organization.

Meanwhile politicians quickly interpreted the appearance of the first of a series of eight articles Wendell L. Willkie has written on his ideas for the Republican platform as indicating that the 1940 Presidential nominee intends to support the ticket this year if he can see his way clear to do so.

5TH WAR LOAN DRIVE
Now In Progress

REMEMBER THIS DRIVE—It is the start of the greatest "war call" ever sent to the American people. You will want to do your part. Remember, it may not be possible for a Victory Volunteer to reach every home, plant, and office. If it happens that you are missed during the drive, go to your nearest bank or Post Office or wherever they sell War Bonds. Buy all you can—at least one extra Bond—the biggest Bond you can afford. And then, when you think you've reached your limit—buy some more! Every dollar counts—NOW!

Will you be a VICTORY VOLUNTEER?

Many patriotic men and women have already signed up to act as Victory Volunteers but more are needed. As a Victory Volunteer, you will serve your country in one of the most important missions ever given to civilians in wartime. Spend an hour or two a day in your own neighborhood. The task is important—the rewards great, for you will have the satisfaction of helping America toward Victory. For full details, without obligation, go to the TO WAR FINANCE COMMITTEE, First National Bank Building, or your nearest Committee Chairman.

THE VICTORY VOLUNTEERS ARE ON THE WAY

Open your door and your heart to them

WHO IS THE VICTORY VOLUNTEER? He (or she) is someone in your locality—maybe a close neighbor or a friend—who has volunteered to work for the 5th War Loan Drive.

One of these volunteers may call at your home or place of work soon—on the most important mission of the hour!

America has asked you before to do something extra to smash Hitler and Tojo. In this 5th War Loan Drive, you're asked to go all-out with every dollar you can scrape up—for war expenditures are greater now than any time since Pearl Harbor. Double your extra War Bond investments. Buy at least one extra Bond now. Invest $100, $200, $300, $400—more if you can.

Yes, it's that important. This war is mounting in fury every minute—as our fighting men plunge into the biggest and bloodiest battle of history. The men who fought and bled and died for you haven't hesitated. Only by answering "yes" to the Victory Volunteer—only by investing to the limit—can you come at all close to matching their spirit. For their sake—and for your own future—open your door and your heart!

ALLIES BLAST PALAU; SHORT HOP TO MANILA

By ROBERT EUNSON

Advanced Allied Headquarters, New Guinea, June 12 (AP)—Opening the aerial prelude to the battle for the Philippines, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's land-based Liberators destroyed 22 grounded Japanese planes in their first daylight raid on Palau, south eastern guardian of the former American archipelago.

Driving from newly-acquired bases in the Dutch New Guinea area, headquarters announced today, the Fifth Army air force bombers also blew up many buildings near the Palau airdrome Friday.

Palau, at the western end of the Caroline islands, is only 65 miles southeast of the Philippines.

Strike At Guam

The painstaking march along New Guinea's back preceded acquisition of bases sufficiently close for land planes to begin assaults on Palau. The first such raid was made Thursday night by a small force.

Friday's assault preceded by one day the U. S. Navy carrier task force strike at Guam, Saipan and Tinian islands, in the Southern Marianas, other Philippine flank bases approximately 800 miles north-east of Palau. This emphasized the aerial coordination between southwest and central Pacific forces in the smash toward the Philippines.

The Liberator attack apparently caught Palau's garrison by surprise, for no challenging Japanese planes arose.

Interception was strong when other Liberators raided the Japanese bases at Truk, in the Carolines the same day, dropping 60 tons of bombs on Moem, Dubon, Pabam and Mesong islands, as well as Alet Island in the Puluwat group, to the west.

Thirty Japanese fighters opposed the Truk raiders. Three were shot down, and one Liberator was lost.

Ground warfare was static at Hollandia and Aitape, on Dutch New Guinea and on Biak island, in the Schouten islands, where American forces have captured one of three airdromes within fighter range of Palau.

Ration Free Shoe Sale July 10 To 29

Washington, June 12 (AP)—Shoe purchasers will have a chance at about seven million pairs ration-free from July 10 to July 29 during a national "odd lot" sale, the Office of Price Administration announced today.

And the shoes must cost at least 25 per cent less than their price on June 1, OPA declared.

This "odd-lot" sale will include footwear for men and women, boys sizes 1 to 6 but not children's misses' and little boys' shoes which were included in the temporarily ration-free shoes for three weeks in May.

Less than 15 per cent of the estimated total supply of shoes for 1944 will be included in the July ration-free sales, OPA said.

DROWNS IN RIVER

Brownsville, Pa., June 12 (AP)—John Walker, 22, of Pittsburgh, drowned in the Monongahela river after being hurled from the deck of the towboat Harry Z. by a broken cable Saturday.

KILLED IN CRASH

Uniontown, Pa., June 12 (AP)—Charles Kennedy, 26, of Connellsville, was killed instantly when his automobile crashed into a pole on Route 119 just north of here Saturday night.

Photographing letters to diminish their weight for airmail is not new—it dates back to 1870 when letters were photographed to a small size on thin paper such as a pigeon

ARMY AND NAVY DRAW MEN FROM "COMMON POOL"

Washington, June 12 (AP)—The nation's draft procedure has been revised again, this time to create a common pool of available men upon which both the Army and Navy will draw.

After July 1 men who pass their induction physicals no longer will be assigned to a specific service but will return home to await orders to report for duty. Only then will they know whether they have drawn the Army or Navy.

Selective Service, in announcing the new arrangements, said changing needs of the armed forces have made it impossible to withdraw men from the present separate pools at an even rate, with the result that in some cases fathers were being taken by the Navy while non-fathers in the same board still were awaiting calls from the Army.

"The revised procedure will enable local boards to continue to fill each call by selecting available volunteers and non-fathers ahead of fathers, and induct men in accordance with their order number as provided by law," draft headquarters said.

Selective Service also instructed local boards not to send up for induction men classified as fit for limited service only, unless ordered to do so by state Selective Service director. The Army has been accepting limited service registrants up to five per cent of the monthly quotas.

Church Pays Rent Of One Red Rose

Ambler, Pa., June 12 (AP)—Trinity Memorial church has paid another year's rent—with a red rose.

The rose was presented by a church representative yesterday to Louis Barcroft Runk, Philadelphia attorney and layman in the Episcopal diocese of Pennsylvania, in keeping with terms of the will of Dr. Richard V. Mattison, who died seven years ago.

Dr. Mattison, an asbestos manufacturer, built and equipped the church in memory of a daughter.

The cost was $150,000, the "rent"—one red rose each June.

TRIPLETS BORN TO TWO COUPLES

(By The Associated Press) Two day-old sets of triplets waited a greeting to Pennsylvania today—three boys at York and two girls and a boy at Kingston.

It didn't seem to interest the wriggling youngsters at all that they'd apparently set a record.

But medical men couldn't recall any previous day when more than one set of triplets had arrived in the state.

The all-male trio was born at York to five-foot-tall Mrs. C. Ralph Sheasley, who normally weighs 100 pounds, and the doctor said they and their mother were "doing fine."

Terry Lee weighed five pounds, David Chester and Philip Alonzo four and a half pounds each. The father is a quarry worker.

Kingston's triplets joined the family of Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Scureman, which already included three daughters.

The father said he was "still wondering" how he felt about it all. The boy and one of the girls weighed five pounds, six ounces apiece, their sister two pounds 11 ounces.

WOULD OUST BRIDGES

Hot Springs, Ark., June 12 (AP)—The International Union, Aluminum Workers of America (CIO), Friday reported a resolution submitted by two Washington state locals urging the CIO to remove Harry Bridges as its California director.

Officers Elected By State Eagles

Harrisburg, June 12 (AP)—The Pennsylvania State Aerie of Fraternal Order of Eagles elected Harry A. Wood, of Erie, as president to succeed L. B. Oberhalter, of Harrisburg.

Other officers named at the 44th annual convention which closed yesterday are: John A. Doran, Chester, vice-president; A. J. Dougherty, Pittsburgh, secretary; J. J. Ashenberger, Wilkes-Barre, treasurer; Edward J. Lischner, Homestead, conductor; Steve Thomas, McKeesport, inside guard; Frank Schertler, Homewood, outside guard; C. F. Sanders, Altoona; Paul Hopper, Easton, and Tom Malone, Philadelphia, trustees. The trustees will meet here next month to select the 1945 convention city.

A resolution adopted by the delegates called for financial aid for members returning from the armed services and war workers who seek employment in the post war period. The convention also pledged $250,000 in war bond purchases.

Jewish War Vets Select Officers

Scranton, Pa., June 12 (AP)—Pennsylvania's Jewish War Veterans elected Dr. Leon A. Braunstein, Scranton, state commander at the 11th annual convention here.

Other officers elected yesterday were Henry Cohen, Reading, senior vice commander, and Geddie Morrell, Reading, junior vice president. Rabbi D. Bookstaber, Harrisburg, was appointed chaplain.

State Nurse Aided Wounded In France

London, June 12 (AP)—A Hershey (Pa.) Army nurse, Second Lt. Eleanor A. Geovanelle, was one of five American nurses who flew into a zone of operation, landing on an improvised air strip on Cherbourg peninsula, spent an hour and a half there with shells bursting nearby, sent back three plane loads of wounded and returned to Britain carrying bouquets of red poppies they picked on the battlefields.

Among the prisoners down back—the first flown from France—was a wounded Japanese in a German uniform.

STATE MAY GET HIGHWAY GRANT

Washington, June 12 (AP)—Pennsylvania would receive $24,234,000 of Federal aid annually in the postwar highway building program under terms of the revised $1,500,000,000 bill approved by the House Roads committee, Chairman Robinson (D-Utah) disclosed today.

Only New York, with $30,195,000 a year, and Texas with $29,547,000 would receive more, according to a committee report Robinson filed approving the measure, which revises previous systems of government fund allocations.

Delaware would receive $2,438,000 a year, New Jersey $8,516,000 and Ohio $19,397,000.

Under the new bill Federal money would be disbursed to states on a ratio based on one-half population, one-fourth area and one-fourth post-road mileage. Previously each of these factors received one-third weight.

The measure also provides that during the first year of the program states must provide 40 per cent matching funds and thereafter 50 per cent. Previously the Federal government contributed 75 per cent and the states only 25 per cent.

The hippopotamus is the largest of the aquatic hoofed animals.

3 Coffins, Skeleton Found In Vacant Lot

Philadelphia, June 12 (AP)—Three coffins, one containing a skeleton, presented this baffler to police today—how did they get into a north Philadelphia vacant lot?

An excited telephone voice led detectives to the scene, and they confirmed that the bones in one of the coffins constituted a complete human skeleton.

Two of the coffins were silk-lined and looked expensive. The third, which contained the skeleton, was an old-style six-sided wooden container.

The skeleton, Detective Sergeant Patrick Kennedy said, had been wired together, as for a medical school demonstration.

It and the coffins were removed last night to the city morgue while the police investigation continued.

Governor's Greeting
Department officers of the veterans and the Auxiliary responded to the speeches. John U. Schroyer brought greetings from Governor Martin.

This afternoon at 1 o'clock the veterans convened their first business session in the court house. Committees will be named and officers will be nominated with possible contests looming for the offices of junior vice commander and inspector. The only campaigner for the post of junior vice commander in the early stages of the convention is Department Adjutant John D. Martz, Greysburg.

The annual banquet will be held this evening at St. James church and the grand ball is scheduled for the Hotel Gettysburg this evening at 9.

Committee reports and election of officers are slated for Tuesday morning with the installation of officers and selection of the 1945 convention city set for Tuesday afternoon. A Wednesday morning session may be necessary to finish convention business.

Commander's Dinner
Department Council of Administration members dined at the Hotel Gettysburg Sunday evening as guests of the commander.

The Auxiliary formally opened its separate sessions this afternoon in St. James chapel at 1:30 o'clock with Department Chief-of-Staff Ella G. Dillon in charge. The ladies will nominate Tuesday and elect and install Wednesday.

The Military Orders of the Serpent and Lizard—fun making groups within the USWV and its Auxiliary, respectively—were busy selling tickets for breakfast and supper meetings each will sponsor.

Supreme Datto Frank Maxwell, Buffalo, attending his 17th department convention for the year, stopped here between the Wisconsin and Michigan convention for the annual convocation to be held Tuesday evening in the Legion home. Nearly 150 representatives already have been made for the affair.

Grand GuGu Frank P. Wagner, Pittsburgh, and Past Supreme GuGu M. W. Hill, Pittsburgh, also are here for the gathering of "Snaix."

The Lizards, headed by Supreme Gila Monster Charlotte Cameron and Supreme Gila Monster Frances Potteiger, are guiding plans for a Tuesday evening dinner and convocation of the funmakers.

Weygand, 77, disappeared soon after the Germans overran all of France after the Allied landings in North Africa in November, 1942. Some reports said he was arrested by the Germans as a hostage for Gen. Henri Giraud, who escaped the Nazis and went to North Africa.

He succeeded Gamelin as French commander in chief when the Germans were only 80 miles from Paris, and directed the fierce but failing battle to halt the steamroller that engulfed the capital and toppled France. He served as minister of national defense in the Petain cabinet, and later was made delegate general and military commander of French North Africa. German pressure forced his retirement from this post a full year before the North African invasion.

SAYS GENERAL WEYGAND SHOT

London, June 12 (AP)—French officers imprisoned at Koenigsberg were told by the Germans that Gen. Maxime Weygand, former commander-in-chief of the French army, was "shot while attempting to escape," a Reuters dispatch from Jurich reported today.

Weygand was made commander of Allied armies just before the fall of France, succeeding Gen. Maurice Gustave Gamelin after the disastrous German breakthrough in May, 1940.

Weygand, 77, disappeared soon after the Germans overran all of France after the Allied landings in North Africa in November, 1942. Some reports said he was arrested by the Germans as a hostage for Gen. Henri Giraud, who escaped the Nazis and went to North Africa.

He succeeded Gamelin as French commander in chief when the Germans were only 80 miles from Paris, and directed the fierce but failing battle to halt the steamroller that engulfed the capital and toppled France. He served as minister of national defense in the Petain cabinet, and later was made delegate general and military commander of French North Africa. German pressure forced his retirement from this post a full year before the North African invasion.

ROCKS BACK IN LEAGUE RUNNING

(By The Associated Press)

Wilmington's Blue Rocks, tied for second place in the Interstate league, continue their pennant quest tonight at York in the Class B circuit's only scheduled game.

The Rocks put themselves back in the running with 7 to 5 and 3 to 2 victories over York in yesterday's double header in the Pennsylvania city, staging a five-run flurry in the seventh inning of the opener and battering two White Rose pitchers for 12 hits in the after-piece.

League-leading Hagerstown and the loop's surprise team, Allentown, were double losers yesterday.

Lancaster was Hagerstown's stumbling block, registering 8 to 3 and 5 to 3 wins at Hagerstown, while last-place Trenton snapped the seven-game Allentown winning string with 6 to 3 and 4 to 1 victories at Allentown.

YANKEES DROP TO 4TH PLACE BY LOSING TWO

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

They may be slipping, but don't count the world champion New York Yankees out of the running in the American league baseball race—not yet, anyway.

The Yanks lost a doubleheader to the Boston Red Sox yesterday, 2 to 1 and 4 to 1, extending their string of defeats to 11 of their last 13 starts.

But last July the Yanks were barely hanging onto first place by a few percentage points, and just when things looked blackest they won eight in a row and followed through by winning the flag and the world series.

Tex Hughson and Clem Hausmann pitched the Red Sox to their double triumph. Hughson's effort was a three-hit masterpiece. In addition, he drove in the winning run in the opener by getting an infield hit with the bases loaded.

Cards Boost Lead

Meatime the St. Louis Cardinals, National League champs, gained two games over their nearest competitors by whipping Cincinnati twice, 3 to 1 and 4 to 1, while the Chicago Cubs shut out Pittsburgh twice, 5 to 0 and 1 to 0.

The Cards set a league record for doubleheaders in a doubleheader by making four in the opener and five in the nightcap, in backing up six-hit twirling by both George Mauer and Harry Gumbert. Walker Cooper, Whitey Kurovski and Danny Littwhiler hit consecutive homers for the Cards in the nightcap.

Paul Erickson turned in a two-hitter and Bob Chipman a five-hitter for the Cubs as they blanked the Pirates. Umpire George Magerkurth banished both Manager Frankie Frisch and Outfielder Johnny Barrett of the Pirates, after an argument in the opener.

White Sox Halted

The Chicago White Sox beat Dizzy Trout, 4 to 2, for their eighth straight triumph in the first game of a twin bill with Detroit, but had their streak snapped in the after-piece when Stubby Overmire won, 1 to 0 on Rudy Rudy's ninth inning single. Detroit thus climbed into third place as the Sox went into a fourth place tie with the Yanks.

A grand sign seventh inning home run by pinch hitter Gene Moore gave the first place St. Louis Browns a split with Cleveland. The Indians easily took the opener, 13 to 1 behind Mel Harder, but Moore's round tripper in the nightcap gave Bob Muncie and the Browns a 4 to 2 triumph. Umpire Charlie Berry banished manager Luke Sewell of the Browns in the second game.

The New York Giants swept a doubleheader from the Phillies, both by scores of 6 to 5 with the second game going 12 innings. Before Phil Weintraub singled Mel Ott home with the winning tally, Nap Reyes' ninth inning single won the opener.

A's Take Pair

Dobo Newsum and Luman Harris, aided by Joe Berry's relief pitching, twirled the Philadelphia Athletics to a double win over Washington, 6 to 1 and 6 to 5, pushing the Senators back into the cellar.

Brooklyn and the Boston Braves divided their twin bill. The Dodgers won the opener, 5 to 4, in 10 innings on Howie Schultz' triple and an outfield fly. The Braves broke a six-game losing streak by taking the nightcap, 8 to 5, as Catcher Phil Masi drove in three runs on two doubles.

Laurels Leading In Eastern Loop

The now-you-do-now-you-don't battle between the Hartford Laurels and the Albany Senators for the Eastern league lead found the Laurels on top today, but only after an assist from an opposing pitcher.

Hartford won handily the first game of a doubleheader with the Scranton Red Sox, 10-2. The Laurels didn't cop the seven-inning second however, until Dwight Simmonds, Scranton pitcher, forced across the deciding run on a base on balls in the seventh, making the count 2-1.

Albany lost to the Wilkes-Barre Barons in the first game, 6-2, but came back to take the nightcap, 3-2, aided by a balk.

The Binghamton Triplets swept two from the Elmira Pioneers, 5-4 and 3-2, both overtime affairs. Wilkes-Barre's Grays tripped the Utica Blue Sox in the opener, 2-1, but dropped the second, 5-3, in a pair of extra-inning tilts.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, June 12 (AP)—Henry Armstrong and Al Davis, who likely will draw a lot of customers into Madison Square Garden Thursday night, hold a notable collection of boxing records. . . . And if they perform as all like they did on their last Garden appearances, they will establish another—one that the Garden's air conditioning system won't eliminate. . . . When Henry lost to Ray Robinson (and retired for the second time) this corner was convinced that Henry could lick any welterweight who would step up with within intuing range, and he couldn't lick anyone who could duck expertly. . . . Off his recent loss to Willie Joyce, that still goes. . . . Davis set a Garden record by knocking out Bob Montgomery virtually with one punch. Then against Beau Jack, he couldn't even land one punch.

SLIGHT UNDERSTATEMENT

Lieut. Jim "Shanty" Hearn, former Georgia Tech third baseman, overcame an overheated radiator, a flat tire, bad weather and one of the south's better service club clubs to pitch a no-hit game against Fort Bragg recently. . . . This led Buster Maynard, formerly of the Glanis, to moan: "There goes one of the best prospects I've seen in a long time," when he learned Hearn belonged to the Cards. . . . A few days later "Shanty" hurled five hitless innings against Maxton Air Base. . . . That evening, while the GI's still were hoarse from cheering him, Hearn remarked: "You know, those were the least impressive innings I've ever pitched."

MONDAY MATINEE

An Army tug launched a few days ago was named "Man O' War." Fifteen others just like it also will be named after race horses. . . . Which just goes to show the difference between horses and boats—horsemen still are looking for a second Man O' War. . . . Although All-America Creighton Miller and Pat Filley both would be eligible to play next fall for Notre Dame, both are likely to turn to pro football because they think it would be unfair to undergraduates for their normal varsity eligibility has expired. Filley, drafted by the Cleveland Rams, recently received a medical discharge from the Marines and is debating between the pros and the Maritime Service. . . . Paul Borza, young third baseman of the Sacramento (Coast League) Solons, is a nephew of ex-big league Outfielder Frank Demaree. And Bob Okrie, Little Rock (Southern Association) hitting star, is a son of Frank Okrie, a good minor league pitcher 25 years ago.

GOLF BRIGADE TAKES SWING TO NEW YORK

By FRITZ HOWELL

Philadelphia, June 12 (AP)—The professional golfing brigade, richer by 17,500 in war bonds—of which Detroit's Sam Byrd matched $6,700—headed for New York and new gold and glory today.

Next step on the play-for-pay parade is at the Wykagyl club, just out of Gotham, where a $13,333 war bond tourney for the Red Cross is scheduled Thursday through Sunday.

Byrd, the ex-outfielder of the New York Yankees, who turned pro in 1937, won the Inquirer's 72-hole medal play marathon here yesterday with 274—seven strokes ahead of second place Craig Wood, of Mamaroneck, N. Y., and 10 under par.

Not one of the field of 129 named Byrd from the start as he took a two-stroke lead with a par-shattering 68, stretched it to three with a second round 67, and jumped it to seven with a 69 on the third tour.

But Byrd, brilliant as his performance was, had to share the spotlight with a fellow-townsmen, 33-year-old public linkster and amateur Ed Furgol. The youngster, 4-F in the draft because of a rigid left elbow caused by a playground fall when he was 12, led the amateurs with 295. True, he was 21 strokes back of Byrd, but he beat out a healthy bunch of Simon-Pures.

Furgol is no Johnny-come-lately to the golfing wars, but he has everyone wondering how he can hit that ball so well with his shrunkon left arm, which is about seven inches shorter than his right.

Another 10-round bout will bring together Izzy Janazzo, New York welterweight, and Bee Bee Wright, of Clairton, who has not lost a bout in some 15 starts before local fans.

John Lower, Cleveland, will test Cpl. Sammy Kelmman in a six-round and Bobby Simmons, Columbus, takes on Billy Shelton, Pittsburgh, in another six.

Four-rounders are scheduled between young Charley Zivic and Jack Besselman and Mickey Quack and Joey Lumpkins.

Heifetz Touring Battlefront Areas

Algiers, June 12 (AP)—Violinist Jascha Heifetz declared today that he was touring battle areas to entertain troops and not to be honored.

After a smash hit concert in a Red Cross theater for enlisted men, Heifetz refused two dinner invitations from the Navy and Army officers' clubs and instead spent two hours at an enlisted men's canteen munching sandwiches and swapping gossip with GI's on their musical likes and dislikes.

"I'm here to play for the troops," Heifetz told the soldiers before leaving for Italy.

Littlestown Man Given Purple Heart

The Purple Heart medal has been awarded to Pvt. Russell G. Dehoff, 22-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dehoff, who was seriously wounded in action in Italy on May 12. The parents were notified by the War Department of their son's having been wounded in a telegram received recently. Later they received a letter from the War department in which the hospital address of their son was given. Accompanying the letter was a form on which Mr. and Mrs. Dehoff were asked to write a five-word message of cheer to be sent by cable to the injured youth by the War Department. It was stated that no charge would be made for this service.

Disclosure that Pvt. Dehoff had been awarded the Purple Heart was made in a letter written by the wounded young man on May 27 and received by his parents on Thursday. He stated that he is confined to a hospital in Italy and is improving although he was unable to write a long letter "because of my arm." He told his parents that he was in a "nice" hospital and was receiving good care.

REPORT ON WORK FOR AME ZION

The annual meeting of the Committee on "Colored Church Work" was held at the Methodist church following Community service on Sunday evening. The financial report for the year, given by Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler, treasurer, disclosed that five local churches made the principal contribution to the work—St. James Lutheran, Christ Lutheran, Reformed, Presbyterian and Methodist.

Organizations contributing were Lions Club, Soroptimist Club and The Shale Fund, D. C. Stallsmith. Is treasurer. Individual contributions were made by Mrs. Irving Blier, Dr. N. B. S. Thomas and Miss Alice Snyder. Forty dollars was received from one offering during Week of Prayer and $55.50 from the high school baccalaureate service. The Gettysburg Ministerium also placed funds at the disposal of the committee during the year. Disbursements were made entirely to the pastor and trustees of St. Pauls A. M. E. Zion church.

Due to the need for additional funds for this work members were assigned various local organizations to which to present this cause. The committee has been following this local "good neighbor" policy since May, 1937, and additional support is needed from the community. A report on this campaign, as well as a detailed discussion of the next year's work and election of officers, will be given at a meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Buehler, July 16th, after community services.

Dr. D. F. Putman, chairman, presided, and other members present were the Rev. Mr. Howard Schley Fox, the Rev. Charles K. Gibson, the Rev. Robert M. Hunt, Mrs. Milton R. Remmel, Mrs. Alma Bowman and T. J. Winebrenner.

Bob Pirelli Is Wellsville Star

Buffalo, N. Y., June 12 (AP)—Southpaw Bob Pirelli is the fair-haired lad today among Wellsville Pony league fans.

After Batavia had trounced the Yankees 13-2 in the opener of a doubleheader yesterday, pitcher Pirelli not only held the Clippers to four hits in the seven-inning nightcap, but batted out a run in the fifth that gave Wellsville a 2-1 victory.

The first-place Lockport Cubs split a double-header with Hornell. Bob Likio won the first half for the Pirates, 2-1, when he drove out a home run with one on in the ninth inning. In the second game, the Cubs rallied to score five runs in the seventh for a 6-4 triumph.

The Olean Oilers lost both halves of a twin bill to Jamestown, 3-2 and 10-2, and moved back into the league cellar. Erie defeated Bradford, 12-6.

ROCKS BACK IN LEAGUE RUNNING

(By The Associated Press)

Wilmington's Blue Rocks, tied for second place in the Interstate league, continue their pennant quest tonight at York in the Class B circuit's only scheduled game.

The Rocks put themselves back in the running with 7 to 5 and 5 to 2 victories over York in yesterday's double header in the Pennsylvania city, staging a five-run flurry in the seventh inning of the opener and battering two White Sox pitchers for 12 hits in the after-piece.

League-leading Hagerstown and the loop's surprise team, Allentown, were double losers yesterday.

Lancaster was Hagerstown's stumbling block, registering 8 to 3 and 5 to 3 wins at Hagerstown, while last-place Trenton snapped the seven-game Allentown winning string with 6 to 3 and 4 to 1 victories at Allentown.

YANKEES DROP TO 4TH PLACE BY LOSING TWO

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

They may be slipping, but don't count the world champion New York Yankees out of the running in the American league baseball race—not yet, anyway.

The Yanks lost a doubleheader to the Boston Red Sox yesterday, 2 to 1 and 4 to 1, extending their string of defeats to 11 of their last 13 starts.

But last July the Yanks were barely hanging onto first place by a few percentage points, and just when things looked blackest they won eight in a row and followed through by winning the flag and the world series.

Tex Hughson and Clem Hausmann pitched the Red Sox to their double triumph. Hughson's effort was a three-hit masterpiece. In addition, he drove in the winning run in the opener by getting an infield hit with the bases loaded.

Meantime the St. Louis Cardinals, National league champs, gained two games over their nearest competitors by whipping Cincinnati twice, 3 to 1 and 4 to 1, while the Chicago Cubs shut out Pittsburgh twice, 5 to 0 and 1 to 0.

The Cards set a league record for doubleplays in a doubleheader by making four in the opener and five in the nightcap, in backing up six-hit twirling by both George Munger and Harry Gumbert. Walker Cooper, Whitey Kurowski and Danny Little hit consecutive homers for the Cards in the nightcap.

Paul Erickson turned in a two-hitter and Bob Chipman a five-hit for the Cubs as they blanked the Pirates. Umpire George Magerkurth banished both Manager Frankie Frisch and Outfielder Johnny Barrett, of the Pirates, after an argument in the opener.

White Sox Halted

The Chicago White Sox beat Dizzy Trout, 4 to 2, for their eighth straight triumph in the first game of a twin bill with Detroit, but had their streak snapped in the after-piece when Stubby Overmire won, 1 to 0 on Rudy York's ninth inning single. Detroit thus climbed into third place as the Sox went into a fourth place tie with the Yanks.

A grand slam seventh inning home run by pinch hitter Gene Moore gave the first place St. Louis Browns a split with Cleveland. The Indians easily took the opener, 13 to 1 behind Mel Harder, but Moore's round tripper in the nightcap gave Bob Muncie and the Browns a 4 to 2 triumph. Umpire Charley Berry banished manager Luke Sewell, of the Browns, in the second game.

The New York Giants swept a doubleheader from the Phillies, both by scores of 6 to 5 with the second game going 12 innings, before Phil Weintraub singled Mel Ott home with the winning tally. Nap Reyes' ninth inning single won the opener.

A's Take Pair

Dobo Newsom and Luman Harris, aided by Joe Berry's relief pitching, twirled the Philadelphia Athletics to a double win over Washington, 6 to 1 and 6 to 5, pushing the Senators back into the cellar.

Brooklyn and the Boston Braves divided their twin bill. The Dodgers won the opener, 5 to 4, in 10 innings on Howie Schultz' triple and an outfield fly. The Braves broke a six-game losing streak by taking the nightcap, 8 to 5, as Catcher Phil Masi drove in three runs on two doubles.

Heifetz Touring Battlefront Areas

Algiers, June 12 (AP)—Violinist Jascha Heifetz declared today that he was touring battle areas to entertain troops and not to be lionized.

After a smash hit concert in a Red Cross theater for enlisted men Heifetz refused two dinner invitations from the Navy and Army officers' clubs and instead spent two hours at an enlisted men's canteen munching sandwiches and swapping gossip with GI's on their musical likes and dislikes.

"I'm here to play for the troops," Heifetz told the soldiers before leaving for Italy.

Laurels Leading In Eastern Loop

The now-you-do-now-you-don't battle between the Hartford Laurels and the Albany Senators for the Eastern league lead found the Laurels on top today, but only after an assist from an opposing pitcher.

Hartford won handily the first game of a doubleheader with the Scranton Red Sox, 10-2. The Laurels didn't cop the seven-inning second however, until Dwight Simonds, Scranton pitcher, forced across the deciding run on a base on balls in the seventh, making the count 2-1.

Albany lost to the Wilkes-Barre Barons in the first game, 6-2, but came back to take the nightcap, 3-2, aided by a balk.

The Binghamton Triplets swept two from the Elmira Pioneers, 5-4 and 3-2, both overtime affairs. Williamsport's Grays tripped the Utica Blue Sox in the opener, 2-1, but dropped the second, 6-5, in a pair of extra-inning tilts.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, June 12 (AP)—Henry Armstrong and Al Davis, who likely will draw a lot of customers into Madison Square Garden Thursday night, hold a notable collection of boxing records. . . . And if they perform at all like they did on their last Garden appearances, they will establish another—one that the Garden's air conditioning system won't eliminate. . . . When Henry lost to Ray Robinson (and retired for the second time) this corner was convinced that Henry could lick any welterweight who would step up with within hitting range, and he couldn't lick anyone who could duck expertly. . . . Off his recent loss to Willie Joyce, that still goes. . . . Davis set a Garden record by knocking out Bob Montgomery virtually with one punch. Then against Beau Jack, he couldn't even land one punch.

SLIGHT UNDERSTATEMENT

Lieut. Jim "Shanty" Hearn, former Georgia Tech third baseman, overcame an overheated radiator, a flat tire, bad weather and one of the south's better service ball clubs to pitch a no-hit game against Fort Bragg recently. . . . This led Buster Maynard, formerly of the Giants, to moan: "There goes one of the best prospects I've seen in a long time," when he learned Hearn belonged to the Cards. . . . A few days later "Shanty" hurled five hitless innings against Maxton Air Base. . . . That evening, while the GI's still were hoarse from cheering him, Hearn remarked: "You know, those were the least impressive innings I've ever pitched."

MONDAY MATINEE

An Army tug launched a few days ago was named "Man O' War." Fifteen others just like it also will be named after race horses. . . . Which just goes to show the difference between horses and boats—horsemen still are looking for a second Man O' War. . . . Although All-America Creighton Miller and Pat Filley both would be eligible to play next fall for Notre Dame, both are likely to turn to pro football because they think it would be unfair to undergraduates for their normal varsity eligibility has expired. Filley, drafted by the Cleveland Rams, recently received a medical discharge from the Marines and is debating between the pros and the Maritime Service. . . . Paul Bow, young third baseman of the Sacramento (Coast League) Solons, is a nephew of ex-big league Outfielder Frank Demaree. And Bob Okrie, Little Rock (Southern Association) hitting star, is a son of Frank Okrie, a good minor league pitcher 25 years ago.

SERVICE DEPT.

Marine Cpl. Mike (Kayo) Janic, former Oakland, Calif., trainer who has seen enough good and bad boxers to know the difference, thinks he has a coming heavyweight champ in 21-year-old Pfc. Kenneth Johnson of Yuma, Ariz. . . . Johnson won the South Pacific light heavyweight title in his ninth fight after leaving Bougainville. . . . The "sit-up" champion of Foster Field, Texas, is Sgt. Gerald "Prany" Gates, former Penn State baseball captain, who performed 650 consecutive sit-ups in 36 minutes. . . . Likely he got his experience sitting up nights with Leo Houck while the Kittany boxing coach was spinning yarns.

Bettina Favored To Beat Walker

Pittsburgh, June 12 (AP)—Mello Bettina, former light heavyweight champion, enters the ring at Forbes Field tonight a 2-1 favorite to defeat Buddy Walker, Columbus, O., heavyweight, in the feature ten-round of a six-bout card.

Another 10-round bout will bring together Izzy Janazzo, New York welterweight, and Bee Bee Wright, Clairton, who has not lost a bout in some 15 starts before local fans.

John Lawer, Cleveland, will test Cpl. Sammy Kelman in a six-round and Bobby Simmons, Columbus, takes on Billy Shelton, Pittsburgh, in another six.

Four-rounders are scheduled between young Charley Zivic and Jack Besselman and Mickey Quack and Joey Lumpkins.

GOLF BRIGADE TAKES SWING TO NEW YORK

By FRITZ HOWELL
Philadelphia, June 12 (AP)—The professional golfing brigade, richer by 17,500 in war bonds—of which Detroit's Sam Byrd snatched $6,700—headed for New York and New gold and glory today.

Next step on the play-for-pay parade is at the Wykagyl club, just out of Gotham, where a $13,333 war bond tourney for the Red Cross is scheduled Thursday through Sunday.

Byrd, the ex-outfielder of the New York Yankees, who turned pro in 1937, won the Inquirer's 72-hole medal play marathon here yesterday with 274—seven strokes ahead of second place Craig Wood, of Mamaroneck, N. Y., and 10 under par.

Shrunk Left Arm

Not one of the field of 129 menaced Byrd from the start as he took a two-stroke lead with a par-shattering 66, stretched it to three with a second round 67, and jumped it to seven with a 69 on the third tour.

But Byrd, brilliant as his performance was, had to share the spotlight with a fellow-townsman, 23-year-old public linkster and amateur Ed Furgol. The youngster, 4-F in the draft because of a rigid left elbow caused by a playground fall when he was 12, led the amateurs with 295. Byrd, he was 21 strokes back of Furgol, but he beat out a healthy bunch of Simon-Pures.

Furgol is no Johnny-come-lately to the golfing wars, but he has everyone wondering how he can hit that ball so well with his shrunk left arm, which is about seven inches shorter than his right.

Littlestown Man Given Purple Heart

The Purple Heart medal has been awarded to Pvt. Russel G. Dehoff, 22-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dehoff, who was seriously wounded in action in Italy on May 12. The parents were notified by the War Department of their son's having received recently. Later they received a letter from the War Department in which the hospital address of their son was given. Accompanying the letter was a form on which Mr. and Mrs. Dehoff were asked to write a five-word message of cheer to be sent by cable to the injured youth by the War Department. It was stated that no charge would be made for this service.

Disclosure that Pvt. Dehoff had been awarded the Purple Heart was made in a letter written by the wounded young man on May 27 and received by his parents on Thursday. He stated that he is confined to a hospital in Italy and is improving although he was unable to write a long letter "because of my arm." He told his parents that he was in a "nice" hospital and was receiving good care.
